

Prophecy

Over the course of five years a cold war ensued between the world's leading intelligence agencies. This war took place in cyberspace with world events that go unnoticed to the average person, but to those who are involved a message is conveyed. These events occur in an unassuming way, inoculated cancer, controlled car accidents, and plane crashes are just a few of their methods.

Through the assassination of a person known or close to the intended target a form of coercion and pressure tactic is placed to control that target. If this fails, immediate family members are targeted, a non lethal "dose" is usually administered to a close family member to set a clear warning of what is to come next if not compliant to the warning. In my case my children were targeted.

To get an idea of their methods, watching a few statements of John Kiriayaku, a well known CIA whistle blower will shed some light on what these agencies are capable of.

My mission, to take absolute and indisputable control of these intelligence agencies and their defense infrastructure. How? A ten thousand page log with all the events that transpired during these five years of constant surveillance will shed light into what happened and how it was done.

Who? To name a few, CIA, DGSE, MI6, Mossad, Military intelligence, Skulls and Bones secret society, Freemasonry, the old world order.

Leaving my loved ones was necessary in order to keep them safe from these intelligence agencies. More than once I was inoculated with a non lethal dose of poison which caused ailments including pain and skin conditions. Sabotage to this document and equipment was a daily occurrence, and then the assassination of people close to my cause began to occur.

Those who have been waiting for redemption keep an open mind and have patience while I address the nations, you of all, understand Hashem's hard ways better than anyone. Through his coincidences and manifestations, his will and knowledge will reach all humanity. For it's now your mission to take his message to the rest of the world.

There will be a learning curve to understand his message. This 338 page introduction is designed to create a knowledge foundation needed to understand the more than ten thousand page log that describes and explains how and what happened during those 5 years.

What is a coincidence?

Throughout human history, coincidences have always been present influencing and guiding us. Many believe that what appears to be a mere coincidence is actually God's way of communicating, or confirming his presence and purpose in our lives.

Some coincidences are simple everyday events such as running into a friend or thinking of someone and then having that person call. Many of us at one point or another wonder why they happen, but often they are discarded or overlooked as unimportant events.

However some coincidences are so unlikely to happen that the question whether a divine providence was involved often comes to mind. Depending on your religious or mystic comprehension of these events, a different interpretation will arise.

Coincidence can occur in many forms, numbers, birthdays, places are just a few, but In the grand scheme of things, coincidences in astronomical events often signal a major shift in human history. Some of these events are described in religions such as Judaism where coincidences are interpreted as messages from God. In this document we will discuss how they influence us, and how our destiny is affected by them.

To those who have a higher understanding of why these events happened, and comprehend that somehow a message is being conveyed from a higher realm, here we will prove who creates them and why.

In Hebrew, the letters that form the word for "coincidence" can be rearranged to form the phrase "only from God".

The End of an Era

The end of the 12th baktun in the Maya Long Count calendar refers to December 21, 2012. This date marked the completion of a five thousand year cycle in the Mayan calendar; it was not an indication of the end of the world, as widely misinterpreted, but rather a starting point of a new era.

Sun Stone

The 12 baktun cycle of the Maya Long Count calendar measures 1,872,000 days or 5,125 tropical years. This is one of the longest cycles found in the Maya calendar system. This cycle ended on the winter solstice, December 21, 2012, when the 13th baktun began.

The Date

According to scripture in several cultures and religions, some significant events will accompany the end of times. These events will serve as markers to identify the beginning of an era and. In Judaism the messianic age is prophesied as the age in which the Messiah will arrive. In Christianity the long awaited second coming of Jesus, and in Islam the return of the Mahdi. Other religions also speak of the arrival of a sort of figure, such as the reincarnation of the Buddah in Buddhism and the arrival of Kalki in Hinduism.

In this chapter we will study signs that will indicate the beginning of a new time is finally here. Some of these signs will be as described in many sacred scriptures, others will occur inadvertently or metaphorically.

To start, we will start looking at one of the most unprecedented events in human history. The Global Covid -19 pandemic. For impartiality reasons, we will rely on articles readily available online to explain this and other events. The connection between each occurrence will create a series of coincidences which will mark them as part of a much broader message. Some detective work or fact checking is important in order to grasp the full picture of this presentation.

Understanding that the year 2020 is a key year to this revelation is also very important. The events and astronomical coincidences that occur during this year will shed light to many scripture and biblical references long misunderstood or forgotten. Once the understanding of a "Big Picture" is achieved, you will comprehend why the so-called "End of Times" is actually the beginning of a new time.

Relative to the celestial equator, a solstice occurs when the sun reaches its maximum or minimum declination.

Soon after, it spread to other areas of Asia, and then worldwide in early 2020. The World Health Organization (WHO) declared the outbreak a public health emergency of international concern (PHEIC) on 30 January 2020, and assessed the outbreak as having become a pandemic on 11 March.^[3]

COVID-19 symptoms range from asymptomatic to deadly, but most commonly include fever, sore throat, nocturnal cough, and fatigue. Transmission of the virus is often through airborne particles. Mutations have produced many strains (variants) with varying degrees of infectivity and virulence.^[9] COVID-19 vaccines were developed rapidly and deployed to the general public beginning in December 2020, made available through government and international programmes such as COVAX, aiming to provide vaccine equity. Treatments include novel antiviral drugs and symptom control. Common mitigation measures during the public health emergency included travel restrictions, lockdowns, business restrictions and closures, workplace hazard controls, mask mandates, quarantines, testing systems, and contact tracing of the infected.

The pandemic caused severe social and economic disruption around the world, including the largest global recession since the Great Depression.^[10] Widespread supply shortages, including food shortages, were caused by supply chain disruptions and panic buying. Reduced human activity led to an unprecedented temporary decrease in pollution. Educational institutions and public areas were partially or fully closed in many jurisdictions, and many events were cancelled or postponed during 2020 and 2021. Telework became much more common for white-collar workers as the pandemic evolved. Misinformation circulated through social media and mass media, and political tensions intensified. The pandemic raised issues of racial and geographic discrimination, health equity, and the balance between public health imperatives and individual rights.

According to the sacred scriptures in some religions, a series of calamities will serve as signs that The End of Times is here. Apocalyptic events of such magnitude that alter the course of human history. The Covid-19 pandemic, was a health crisis without precedent in modern human history which marked the year 2020 as a possible turning point for the ages.

Solar eclipse of June 21, 2020

An eclipse occurs when the moon comes between the Sun and Earth. The moon casts a shadow on Earth, blocking the Sun in a total (total eclipse) or partial way (partial eclipse). An annular eclipse is a very special eclipse, it occurs when the moon is at its farthest point from the Earth and the Sun at its closest. The circumference of the Moon isn't big enough to cover the Sun completely leaving a "ring of fire". In the year 2020 an annular eclipse occurred on June 21 the summer solstice 2020.

On average annular eclipses occur every 2 years, such an event could happen again on a summer solstice in 730 years, making this event an exceptional rarity in the cosmos.

Great conjunction

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

A great conjunction is a conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn, when the two planets appear closest together in the sky. Great conjunctions occur approximately every 20 years when Jupiter "overtakes" Saturn in its orbit. They are named "great" for being by far the rarest of the conjunctions between naked-eye planets^[1] (i.e. excluding Uranus and Neptune).

The spacing between the planets varies from conjunction to conjunction with most events being 0.5 to 1.3 degrees (30 to 78 arcminutes, or 1 to 2.5 times the width of a full moon). Very close conjunctions happen much less frequently (though the maximum of 1.3° is still close by inner planet standards): separations of less than 10 arcminutes have only happened four times since 1200, most recently in 2020.^[2]

In history [edit]

Great conjunctions attracted considerable attention in the past as omens. During the late Middle Ages and Renaissance they were a topic broached by the pre-scientific and transitional astronomer-astrologers of the period up to the time of Tycho Brahe and Johannes Kepler, by scholastic thinkers such as Roger Bacon^[3] and Pierre d'Ailly,^[4] and they are mentioned in popular and literary works by authors such as Dante,^[5] Lope de Vega,^[6] and Shakespeare.^[7] This interest is traced back in Europe to translations of Arabic texts, especially Albumasar's book on conjunctions.^[8]

Clusterings of several planets were considered even more significant. The Chinese apparently remembered the clustering of all five planets in 1953 BC, and noted the clustering of all but Venus in 1576 BC and of all five in 1059 BC. These were connected in Chinese thought to the founding of the first three historical dynasties, the Xia dynasty, the Shang dynasty, and the Zhou dynasty. The intervals involved, of 377.8 years (19 great conjunction intervals) and 516.4 years (26 great conjunction intervals) bring Mars back to approximately the same position. Further repeats of the 516-year period lead to the clustering in AD 1524, considered ominous in Europe at the time of the Radical Reformation, and the upcoming clustering of September 2040, which will involve all five planets again, in a longitude span of less than 7°.^{[9][10]}

The "Great Conjunction" was a planetary alignment between Jupiter and Saturn that occurred on December 21 2020, the winter solstice of that same year.

Typically a Jupiter Saturn conjunction occurs every 20 years, however this alignment was very special; both planets had not aligned this close since the year 1623.

“The Great Conjunction of 2020”, was nicknamed “The Bethlehem Star”. A true conjunction occurs at less than 10 arch minutes, in other words both planets' paths align in the sky as if they were one star. The last time this event occurred with such proximity was in 1623 and 1226. However this last alignment occurred on the winter solstice 2020. In order for us to see another “Bethlehem Star” conjunction on a winter solstice, we would have to wait approximately 146,000 years, making this an extremely rare event.

If we combine the two previous astronomical events on the summer and winter solstice 2020, the probabilities of these events occurring in the same year are one in 106 million years. Such rarity is an astronomical marker that indicates that the year 2020 is an exceptional year and the astronomical events and synchronisms that occur during this period including the global pandemic carry a profound meaning and message.

Genesis 1:14 And God said, “Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs and for seasons, and for days and years;

Sacred scripture literally notes that the stars are there to give us signs, a message that has been overlooked for many a generation.

Continuing the analysis of the astronomical events of the year 2020, Comet Neowise 2020 was discovered on March 27, 2020, its perihelion or closest point to the sun, occurred on July 3 that same year. A series of historical events that correlate with this date also took place in human history. The Declaration of Independence of the United States of America took place the 4th of July, and The Declaration of Independence of Venezuela on July 5th. This astronomical event occurs after comet Neowise has traveled approximately 4500 years across the galaxy since its last perihelion.

Creating a numeric sequence with these dates, Belarus celebrates its independence day on July 3, The name Rus' is often conflated with its Latin forms Russia and Ruthenia, thus Belarus is often referred to as White Russia or White Ruthenia. The sequence of July 3, July 4, and July 5 are dates where these 3 countries sequentially celebrate their independence.

The Spanish translation of Belarus, Bielorrusia, bears a phonetic similarity with the Christian term Parusia, which for Christians is a term linked to the second coming of their Messiah. Comet Neowise's perihelion in the year 2020, and its phonetic coincidence to the term Parusia is a coincidence that indicates the coming of messianic figure.

The Second Coming (sometimes called the Second Advent or the Parousia) is the Christian and Islamic belief that Jesus Christ will return to Earth after his ascension to Heaven (which is said to have occurred about two thousand years ago). The idea is based on messianic prophecies and is part of most Christian eschatologies.

In Islamic eschatology, Jesus (ʿĪsā ibn Maryam) is also believed to return in the end times. According to Islamic belief, he will descend from Heaven to defeat the false messiah (al-Masih ad-Dajjal), restore justice, and reaffirm monotheism. His return is regarded as one of the major signs of the Day of Judgment, and he is viewed as a revered prophet, not divine, in Islamic theology.^[1]

Other faiths have various interpretations of it.

Several different terms are used to refer to the Second Coming of Christ:

In the New Testament, the Greek word ἐπιφάνεια (epiphaneia, appearing) is used six times to refer to the return of Christ.^[2]

The Greek New Testament uses the Greek term parousia (παρουσία, meaning "arrival", "coming", or "presence") 24 times, seventeen of them concerning Christ. However, parousia has the distinct reference to a period of time rather than an instant in time. At Matthew 24:37, the word parousia is used to clearly describe the period of time in which Noah lived. The Greek word eleusis, which means "coming", is not interchangeable with parousia. So this parousia or "presence" would be unique and distinct from anything that had occurred before.^[3] The word is also used six times referring to individuals (Stephanas, Fortunatus and Achaicus,^[4] Titus,^[5] and Paul the Apostle^[6]) and once referring to the "coming of the lawless one".^[7]

Mars to reach opposition October 13

Posted by Bruce McClure | October 12, 2020

Also On October 13, 2020, Mars came into opposition with our planet for the first time since July 27, 2018. In its smaller orbit around the sun, Earth will pass more or less between the sun and Mars at around 23:00 UTC. When Mars is in opposition, the sun and Mars are on opposite sides of Earth's sky.

The opposition of Mars is a planetary alignment, much like eclipses and conjunctions. All these alignments are coincidence or synchronicities in the heavens. The dates when they occur, create messages through coincidence with historical events.

Mars opposition also occurred in the year 2020, added to the annular eclipse, and the great conjunction on both solstices that same year, and comet Neowise's perihelion every 4500 years, marks the year 2020 as a very unique year. If we tried to calculate a numeric probability for all these events to happen in a single year, it would yield an astronomical number in the billions. All these events indicate that the year 2020 is a very special year. If we also add the 2020 pandemic and the date sequence linked the word Parousia, these would be very compelling signs that a time of a great change is here.

Now why is the opposition of Mars important? Let's look at the events that correlate with this date.

The Battle of Hastings was fought on 14 October 1066 between the Norman-French army of William, Duke of Normandy, and an English army under the Anglo-Saxon King Harold Godwinson, beginning the Norman Conquest of England. It took place approximately 7 mi (11 km) northwest of Hastings, close to the present-day town of Battle, East Sussex, and was a decisive Norman victory.

Harold appears to have died late in the battle, although accounts in the various sources are contradictory. William of Poitiers only mentions his death, without giving any details on how it occurred. The Bayeux Tapestry is not helpful, as it shows a figure holding an arrow sticking out of his eye next to a falling fighter being hit with a sword. Over both figures is a statement "Here King Harold has been killed". It is not clear which figure is meant to be Harold, or if both are meant. The earliest written mention of the traditional account of Harold dying from an arrow to the eye dates to the 1080s from a history of the Normans written by an Italian monk, Amatus of Montecassino. William of Malmesbury states that Harold died from an arrow to the eye that went into the brain and that a knight wounded Harold at the same time. Robert Wace repeats the arrow-to-the-eye account.

The mystic and symbolic value that this historic event carries is a change in leadership where a king reclaims his rightful title and rule.

The planet Mars is named after the Roman god of war, Mars. In Roman times an animal sacrifice called October Horse (Latin Equus October), took place on October 15 in Mars honour. This date coincided with the end of the agricultural and military campaign season in the Roman Empire.

The all seeing or single eye is traditionally linked with the presence or will of God.

To commemorate the Battle of Hastings, the Bayeux Tapestry was commissioned. The Bayeux Tapestry is an embroidered cloth nearly 70 metres long and 50 centimetres wide that depicts the events leading up to the battle of Hastings. The Bayeux Tapestry used images to convey the story of the struggle of William of Normandy to regain the legacy left to him by England's last king Edward the Confessor.

In a very illiterate world, images were the language of choice.

Depicted in the Bayeux Tapestry is Halley's comet, a sign that events in the heavens influence our destiny here in this plane, a tradition long lost today, but evidently well preserved and studied in the past.

The sequence of events on October 13, Mars in opposition, Battle of Hastings October 14, and Equus October on October 15 contain a message related to Mars, the Roman god of war. Added to the Great Conjunction and the annular eclipse on the solistices, we can conclude that the possibilities of having all these astronomical and historical events connected in synchronicity and sequence defines them as events we should pay special attention to in terms of prophetic providence.

The sum of these events and sequences point out a message related to a future struggle, a struggle which will take place with the coming of the new era. A power struggle to gain control of the new coming world by a Mars related figure, the old god of war, son of Jupiter the father of the gods in the old Roman religion.

An annular eclipse also occurred on oct 14 2023, marking the Battle of Hastings as a significant event when it comes to astronomical coincidences. However the true significance of this eclipse must be combined with other such events to comprehend what message is behind it. We will study this and other celestial events in a further chapter.

This article is about the rank of angel. For other uses, see Archangel \(disambiguation\).

Archangels (/ˌɑːrˈkɛɪndʒəls/) are the second lowest rank of angel in the Catholic hierarchy of angels, based on and put forward by Pseudo-Dionysius the Areopagite in the 5th or 6th century in his book De Coelesti Hierarchia (On the Celestial Hierarchy).^{[1][2][3]}

The Bible itself uses the term "archangel" two times referring to the angel Michael only in the New Testament. The Bible does not mention a particular hierarchy of angels in any detail aside from this. The word is usually associated with the Abrahamic religions and many offshoots they are historically associated with.

Archangel is derived from Greek archángelos (ἀρχάγγελος), with the Greek prefix arch- meaning 'chief'. In Catholic theology, archangels constitute the second-lowest rank of angel; much of modernized imaging of Archangels as we have today likely stems from the etymology of their name, as well as their presentation in John Milton's Paradise Lost.^[4]

In many offshoots of Judaism, with the oldest text coming from Enoch 1, the highest ranking angels are Michael, Raphael, Gabriel and Uriel, who are usually referred to as archangels in English and are given the title of śārīm (Hebrew: שָׂרִים 'princes'; שָׂרָה, שָׂרָה, שָׂרָה), to show their superior rank and status.^[5] Two examples of this can be seen in Daniel 10:13 and 12:1, where Michael, Chief of the Heavenly Host, is referred to as 'ahaj haśśārīm hārišōnīm (אחד השָׂרִים הַרְאֲשִׁינִים 'one of the chief princes') in the former, and haśśar haggāḏōl (הַשָּׂר הַגָּדוֹל 'the great prince') in the latter.^{[6][7][8][9]}

Guido Reni's Archangel Michael Trampling Lucifer, 1636

In the Kabbalah (Jewish mysticism) there are traditionally twelve archangels, who are each assigned to a certain sephira: Shubael, Raziel, Cassiel, Zadkiel, Camael, Michael, Uriel & Haniel, Raphael & Jophiel, Gabriel, and Azrael. There are also a variety of other archangels who share similar associations spanning throughout this tradition.

The numerical coincidence between gods in the old religions with today's angelical order in the Abrahamic religions indicates that an evolution of the old religions took place. The details of why new religions are needed to replace old religions and how this took place is in our ten thousand page mission, proof through coincidence that it's all part of God's Great Plan for the ages.

Michael, also called Saint Michael the Archangel, Archangel Michael and Saint Michael the Taxiarch is an archangel and the warrior of God in Christianity, Judaism, and Islam. The earliest surviving manuscripts mention his name in the third- and second-century BC Jewish works, often but not always apocalyptic, where he is the chief of the angels and archangels, and he is the guardian prince of Israel and is responsible for the care of the people of Israel. God's evolution of Mars, the old god of war, into today's religions as the warrior of God, Saint Michael.

A Visual Language

The message is conveyed not only with signs in the cosmos, historical events and religions, but also with media available in modern times.

A very particular type of coincidence occurs in the seventh art. Coincidences in movies are accompanied by numeric coincidences (timing) and visual symbolism. Coincidences in cinema are a much more effective way to establish messages since a recorded archive is available and can be used by many to confirm or verify these events at any time.

In order to ascertain all these coincidences a Netflix and a Google tv account will be required for you to authenticate these events.

Bright is a 2017 American urban fantasy action film produced and directed by David Ayer, and written by Max Landis. The film is set in an alternate present in which humans and mythical creatures co-exist and details an LAPD police officer (portrayed by Will Smith) and his orc partner (Joel Edgerton) confronting racism and police corruption while protecting a magic wand and the elf girl (Lucy Fry) who wields it. Noomi Rapace, Édgar Ramírez, and Ike Barinholtz also star.

In this scene of the movie Bright we can see the image of an eclipse painted on a wall exactly at 33 minutes and 33 seconds from the start of the movie, a number considered by many as an angelic number. In order to create more complex messages, synchronicity, numerology and symbolism are often combined. Its interpretation requires an understanding of a knowledge base to which all is tied. Its hidden meaning is often confirmed or is complemented with real life events and synchronicities.

Used in Christian liturgy, a monstrance bears a striking similarity to an eclipse and the planetary alignments (minarets) in Islamic mosques. Once we understand that the stars serve a purpose other than just light up the skies, all these connections between religions will start to make sense.

In Islam, planetary alignments play a key role when understanding their relationship with the Creator. A crescent moon or an eclipse seems to be present at the top of their minarets. This tradition dates back to ancient times all the way to their oldest and most sacred monument, the Kabbah.

The Holy Kabbah (The Cube) is an ancient structure located in Saudi Arabia and is considered the most sacred site in Islam. According to tradition its “eye” called the Black Stone, is a meteorite that fell in that site long before the the arrival of Islam, and is considered as a sign from the “Heavens”.

Often confused with a crescent moon, a minarette is actually the representation of an eclipse, or a planetary alignment.

Used in the Christian liturgy a monstrance resembles a sun with a crescent or moon in its middle.

Tenet is a 2020 science fiction action thriller film written and directed by Christopher Nolan, who also produced it with his wife Emma Thomas. It stars John David Washington, Robert Pattinson, Elizabeth Debicki, Dimple Kapadia, Michael Caine, and Kenneth Branagh. The film follows a former CIA agent who is recruited into a secret organization, tasked with tracing the origin of objects that are traveling backward through time and their connection to an attack from the future to the present.

In this scene of the movie Tenet, a numerology present in the license plate of the van, will provide a great deal of clues on how our destiny is influenced by a higher realm.

Our mission is not to evangelize, recruit or guide anyone towards a different religion. Unfortunately in the study of some coincidences this will inevitably seem to occur, especially in religions which historically may not have been very tolerant of others. That being said, we'll look at some of these coincidences.

Risen is a religious oriented movie, however the coincidences within its scenes will create a reference to the coincidences that we have discussed in the heavens in prior chapters. Although tailored to a Christian audience, once we understand the Great Plan, we will realize these references apply to all or religious beliefs.

Risen is a 2016 biblical drama film directed by Kevin Reynolds and written by Reynolds and Paul Aiello. An American-Spanish co-production, the film stars Joseph Fiennes, Tom Felton, Peter Firth, and Cliff Curtis, and details a Roman soldier's search for Jesus's body following his resurrection. Columbia Pictures released the film to theaters in the United States on February 19, 2016.

A reverse or mirror effect of the license plate in the movie Tenet, will yield the exact timing in the movie Risen where the reference to Mars is present. Is this a mere coincidence? Both movies were produced in different times by different directors and producers, a highly unlikely event. However just one numeric reference isn't enough to make this definite or conclusive.

Equus October or October Horse in honour of Mars took place on October 15 in Roman times. A mirror effect in the time line of the same scene as the license plate (3824) will also yield a second numeric coincidence, at exactly 01 minutes and 51 seconds from the start of the movie. Are these just coincidences? Are they part of a message? It would seem very unlikely someone could intentionally timed the names, scenes and actions of these movies in such a precise manner.

Known as angelic numbers, this and other forms of numerology will start to make sense once we comprehend how and why numbers are used to convey messages. Once tied to a biblical numerology or a movie scene these clues will start to fall into place and a much broader message will start to emerge.

A careful study of these images and what links them is necessary in order to piece together all the clues left behind for us to find. We will look at many of these coincidences in movies in further chapters.

<https://youtu.be/mFOO4jcBbEk>

I strongly suggest you take the time to watch and verify the numerology of these movies on your own with your Netflix and Google TV accounts. It is very important for you to see first hand the timing of these scenes otherwise this whole effort will prove futile.

The Signs

Router Stone Pumapunku Bolivia. Although attributed to the Tiwanaku Culture, it is believed these perfectly cut stones were left there long before the arrival of the Tiwanaku. The similarity to an internet router is astounding once we understand the message being conveyed transcends time.

The arrival of the internet and quick access to information is crucial in order to study the symbols and the coincidences that will reveal the message, without the internet and the vast amounts of resources available in it, it wouldn't be possible to verify or confirm in a speedy manner any coincidences in this part of The Great Plan. Pumapunku or Puma Punku is a 6th-century T-shaped and strategically aligned man-made terraced platform mound with a sunken court and monumental structure on top, near Tiwanaku, La Paz, Bolivia. It is part of the Pumapunku complex, at the Tiwanaku Site, an ancient archeological complex in the Andes of western Bolivia that has been designated a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

-16.561500, -68.679999 - Puma Punku, Bolivia.

16°56'15.0"N 33°44'55.0"E - Nubian pyramids, Sudan.

A coincidence with these two archeological sites occurs when we analyze the first set of numbers of both geo locations. Both begin with the same set of numbers however they use two different location formats. The first set of coordinates are expressed in DD (decimal degrees) and the second set of numbers in DMS (degrees, minutes, seconds), yet they both yield the two locations we are currently studying. Is this just a coincidence? How likely is this to happen?

H stones Pumapunku Bolivia.

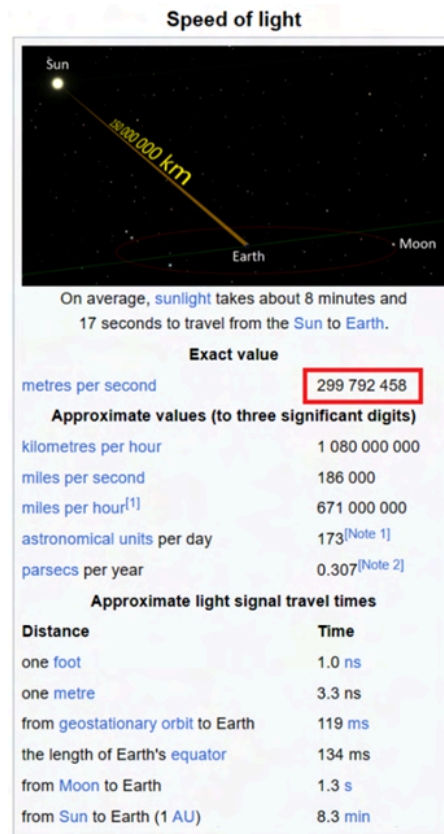

H pyramids in Sudan.

When we look at the H stones in Pumapunku we can realize there is a visual coincidence with the H in the pyramids in Sudan. A coincidence which explains why the numeric connection with these two sites exist. The existence of pyramids around the world is well documented however these are very particular pyramids, not only do the entrances resemble the letter H but also their angular shape is particularly sharper than most pyramids around the world.

29.9792458, 31.135

In a more recognizable pyramid in Egypt, another exceptional occurrence is present. The first set of numbers of the geo location of the Great Pyramid of Giza coincides with the speed of light. A remarkable coincidence since the creation of these structures date back thousands of years when man did not have any means to measure these variables.

Sphinx Giza Egypt

Another coincidence between these sites occurs in symbolism. The Sun Gate monument in Pumapunku, exhibits a creature with a likeness to a Lion very much as the Sphinx in Giza, In Giza the body of a lion with a human face, in Pumapunku a human body with the head of a lion.

Sun Gate, Pumapunku Bolivia

Some less than obvious geometrical symbology is also present in the Gate of the Sun where the Pumapunku sphinx is.

Pharaoh Khufu's burial chamber.

The coincidence with this rectangle in the pharaoh's burial chamber can be linked to the Sun Gate through this geometric shape.

Missing pyramids in Pumapunku.

Giza pyramid complex.

An implicit message can be interpreted between these two sites that links them together.

Easter Island (Spanish: Isla de Pascua, [ˈizla ðe ˈpaskwa]; Rapa Nui: Rapa Nui, [ˈrapa ˈnu.i]) is an island and special territory of Chile in the southeastern Pacific Ocean, at the southeasternmost point of the Polynesian Triangle in Oceania. The island is renowned for its nearly 1,000 extant monumental statues, called moai, which were created by the early Rapa Nui people. In 1995, UNESCO named Easter Island a World Heritage Site, with much of the island protected within Rapa Nui National Park. Easter Island is also the only territory in Polynesia where Spanish is an official language.

Isaiah 42

1 Behold my servant, whom I uphold; mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth; I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles.

2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.

3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth.

*4 He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.

Isaiah 49

1 Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye people, from far; The LORD hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft; in his quiver hath he hid me;

*3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.

The idea that Jewish people are the chosen people can be traced to the Bible. The book of Deuteronomy 7:6 reads: "for you are a people holy to the Lord your God. The Lord your God has chosen you out of all the peoples on the face of the earth to be his people, his treasured possession".

Israel is a country located in the middle east, with Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan bordering its territory and the Mediterranean sea its coast. There are no islands near Israel. So, is the reference to isles or islands an error in the prophet Isaiah's writings?

This visual coincidence with the Moai statues points in the direction of the Jewish people. There are no reasons for a reference in the book of Isaiah for an isle since the land of Israel isn't an island.

The only logical explanation for this reference is to indicate the symbolic coincidence with Jewish traditional attire and the Moai statues in Easter Island.

There is also no reason for this to have happened accidentally since the word Isles is also written more than once in the book of Isaiah.

Isaiah 42

1 "Keep silence before Me, O islands, and let the people renew their strength; let them come near, then let them speak; let us come near together to judgment.

2 "Who raised up the righteous man from the east, called him to His foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? He gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow.

4 Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I, the LORD, the first, and with the last; I am He."

5 The isles saw it, and feared; the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.

Isaiah 41

1 "Keep silence before Me, O islands, and let the people renew their strength; let them come near, then let them speak; let us come near together to judgment.

Isaiah 41

5 The isles saw it, and feared; the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.

"The gathering of the 12 tribes" typically refers to the religious concept of the Gathering of Israel, a prophesied event in which the descendants of the ancient Israelites will be reunited with God and re-established in their ancestral lands. This concept appears in the Old and New Testaments and is central to the beliefs of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormonism), who believe it is associated with the Second Coming of Jesus Christ. The gathering is a spiritual and physical return of God's covenant people from their worldwide scattering.

The Arch of Titus.

On 29 November 1947, the United Nations General Assembly approved a plan which would partition Palestine into two states: one Jewish and one Arab. Each state would be composed of three major sections, linked by extraterritorial crossroads, plus an Arab enclave at Jaffa. Expanded Jerusalem would fall under international control as a Corpus Separatum.

After thousands of years without a land of their own, countless struggles and persecution throughout history the Jewish people would finally have a place to call their own.

It is believed by many scholars and religious erudites, that the formation of the State of Israel and the gathering of jews from all over the world, as the sign of the eminent return of The Messiah, a biblically event recorded in prophecy, a figure which will reinvocate their place with the Creator as described in the bible, a moment awaited by the Jewish people for millenia.

On October 13, 2005, which was the date of Yom Kippur that year, Rabbi Yitzhak Kaduri reportedly announced during a synagogue service that he had a vision of the Messiah. ⓘ

During this service, the revered, 108-year-old Kabbalist leader broke from tradition to deliver a speech where he proclaimed he knew the name of the Messiah and where he was. He stated that many significant events would precede the Messiah's public appearance. ⓘ

Kaduri also wrote a cryptic note containing the Messiah's name, with instructions that it was to be sealed and only opened one year after his death. He passed away in January 2006, and the note, when opened in January 2007, was reported by some sources to identify the Messiah as Yehoshua (Jesus). This claim was highly controversial and created a significant stir within the Jewish Orthodox community. ⓘ

On October 13 2005, the same day as Mars in opposition, Kabbalist Yitzhak Kaduri, considered a modern day sage, had a vision of the Messiah. This coincidence establishes the relation between Mars in the old religions and the Messiah in today's dominant religions and how religions and names change but the protagonist remains the same.

El "Milagro de Fátima" se refiere principalmente al Milagro del Sol ocurrido el 13 de octubre de 1917 en Fátima, Portugal, donde miles de personas presenciaron al sol "bailar", cambiar de color y zigzag en el cielo tras las apariciones de la Virgen María a tres niños pastores (Lucía, Francisco y Jacinta). Este evento, que secó la ropa mojada de los presentes y fue documentado por periódicos, es considerado una confirmación de las apariciones marianas y un llamado a la oración y la penitencia.

On October 13, 1884 Pope Leo the XIII had a vision during his mass, after which he immediately wrote "The Prayer to Archangel Michael", one hundred and twenty one years later Rabbi Ytzak Kaduri's would receive his messianic vision.

Exactly 33 years after Pope Leo's vision, and 88 years before Rabbi Kadouri vision, The Miracle of Fatima would occur in Portugal on the same date. This series of coincidences tie together a message to the Abrahamic Religions, on who the chosen people are, and the identity of The Mahdi, Archangel Michael, Jehoshua, and the date October 13, 2020; the day Mars was in opposition.

And it came to pass, at the end of forty days and forty nights, that the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone, even the tablets of the covenant.

An explanation of Moses breaking the two tablets of stone and the connection to the laws of Karma is explained in detail in the five year, ten thousand page document, all linked to the 911 attacks and his plan for humanity, and the jewish people.

Knowing what to look for, is the key to understanding the secrets behind every synchronicity. Before we look at the events that lead to the 911 terrorist attacks, a series of historical events of a similar nature took place. The massacre of the jews in Tower of York, England, almost a thousand years earlier, and Massada, two thousand years before.

119, 911 T'sha b'Av is a Jewish fast day commemorating the destruction of both the First and Second Temples in Jerusalem. The ninth day of the Hebrew month of Av (11th month of the civil year).

The symbolic coincidence of the Colosseum and an eye, merits we study this time in history and how the Jewish people play a key role in what is known as the coming “Messianic Age”.

Colosseum 70 A.D, Rome Italy.

Masada 0, Tower of York I, Twin Towers II, could the third temple be a stadium as the Colosseum? The Roman Colosseum was built around the same time as the siege of Massada; this sequence of historical events is conveying a message and at the same time telling a story.

American Airlines Flight 587 crash in Queens sparks memories of 9/11 in 2001

Three minutes after taking off from Kennedy Airport, a packed jetliner bound for the Dominican Republic suddenly broke apart yesterday and slashed through a Queens neighborhood that lost dozens of cops and firefighters in the twin towers attacks.

9 “And here is the mind which hath wisdom: The seven heads are seven mountains on which the woman sitteth. 10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other has not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space. 11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, yet is one of the seven and goeth into perdition.

A numeric and phonetic coincidence occurs with a river in the country of destiny of the doomed flight and this biblical verse. A river named Ozama just as the mastermind of the 911 terrorist attacks, a mountain sierra also with seven hills and the numbers 911. The location of the crash will also give us clues to coincidences in future chapters.

587 Is Winning Number in N.J. Lottery

Associated Press

TRENTON, N.J. – In a morbid coincidence, the winning number in one of the New Jersey Lottery's games Monday was the same as the number of the American Airlines flight that crashed in Queens earlier in the day: 587.

So many lottery players chose the number for tickets for the evening Pick 3 drawing that the payout was unusually low, just $16 for a straight match. The box and pair payouts also were very low, at $2.50 and $1.50, respectively.

On a typical day, the straight bet payout for Pick 3 is $275, lottery officials said.

In another coincidence, the Pick 3 number chosen for the lottery's new midday drawing, which debuted Monday, was a variation on the flight number, 578.

Players who picked 587 for that drawing won a box payout of $13.50. The straight payout for the midday Pick 3 game was $81.50.

This article is about the siege that occurred in 589–587 BC and is not to be confused with Nebuchadnezzar II's earlier siege of Jerusalem in 597 BC.

For other uses, see Siege of Jerusalem.

The siege of Jerusalem (c. 589–587 BC) was the final event of the Judahite revolts against Babylon, in which Nebuchadnezzar II, king of the Neo-Babylonian Empire, besieged Jerusalem, the capital city of the Kingdom of Judah. Jerusalem fell after a 30-month siege, following which the Babylonians systematically destroyed the city and Solomon's Temple.^{[1][2]} The Kingdom of Judah was dissolved and many of its inhabitants exiled to Babylon.

During the late 7th century BC, Judah became a vassal kingdom of Babylon. In 601 BC, Jehoiakim, king of Judah, revolted against Babylonian rule despite the strong remonstrances of the prophet Jeremiah.^{[2][3]} Jehoiakim died for reasons unclear, and was succeeded by his son, Jeconiah.^{[4][5]} In 597 BC, the Babylonians besieged Jerusalem, and the city surrendered.^{[2][6]} Nebuchadnezzar pillaged Jerusalem and deported Jeconiah and other prominent citizens to Babylon; Jeconiah's uncle, Zedekiah, was installed as king.^{[2][7]} Later, encouraged by the Egyptians, Zedekiah launched a second revolt, and a Babylonian army was sent to retake Jerusalem.^[2]

On Tisha B'Av, July 587 or 586 BC, the Babylonians took Jerusalem, destroyed the First Temple and burned down the city.^{[1][2][8]} The small settlements surrounding the city, and those close to the western border of the kingdom, were destroyed as well.^[8] According to the Bible, Zedekiah attempted to escape, but was captured near Jericho. He was forced to watch the execution of his sons in Riblah, and his eyes were then put out.^[9]

The destruction of Jerusalem and its temple led to a religious, spiritual and political crisis, which left its mark in prophetic literature and biblical tradition.^{[9][8]} The Kingdom of Judah was abolished and annexed as a Babylonian province with its center in Mizpah.^{[2][9][8]} The Judean elite, including the Davidic dynasty, were exiled to Babylon.^[8] After Babylon had fallen to Cyrus the Great, founder of the Persian Achaemenid Empire, in 539 BC, he allowed the exiled Judeans to return to Zion and rebuild Jerusalem. The Second Temple was completed in 516 BC under Zerubbabel.

All these events coincide in an unimaginable way to generate a message for those who are directly involved, in this case the jewish people.

Could there be a reference to a future event in da Vinci's Last Supper?

Zechariah

Zechariah 14:4 On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south.

According to The Prophet Zechariah the coming of the Messiah will occur in the Mount of Olives in Jerusalem, accompanied by what seems to be a natural phenomena (earthquake). Whether this is an actual event or an allegory to a different event in the future, is explained in detail our theological mission.

Zechariah 14:4 On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south.

Zechariah 14:4 On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south.

Zechariah 14:4

On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south.

John 8

1 Jesus went unto the Mount of Olives. 2 And early in the morning He came again into the temple, and all the people came unto Him; and He sat down and taught them. 3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto Him a woman taken in adultery. And when they had set her in the midst, 4 they said unto Him, "Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act. 5 Now Moses in the law commanded us that such should be stoned but what sayest thou?" 6 This they said testing Him, that they might have cause to accuse Him. But Jesus stooped down and with His finger wrote on the ground, as though He heard them not. 7 So when they continued asking Him, He lifted Himself up and said unto them, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her." 8 And again He stooped down and wrote on the ground. 9 And they who heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning with the eldest even unto the last, and Jesus was left alone with the woman standing in the midst. 10 When Jesus had lifted Himself up and saw none but the woman, He said unto her, "Woman, where are those thine accusers? Hath no man condemned thee?" 11 She said, "No man, Lord." And Jesus said unto her, "Neither do I condemn thee; go, and sin no more." 12 Then spoke Jesus again unto them, saying, "I am the Light of the world. He that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

Christ and the Adulteress, Orazio de Ferrari 1650.

The first major reference to a feminine element with Jesus, occurs in the Christian bible also in the Mount of Olives.

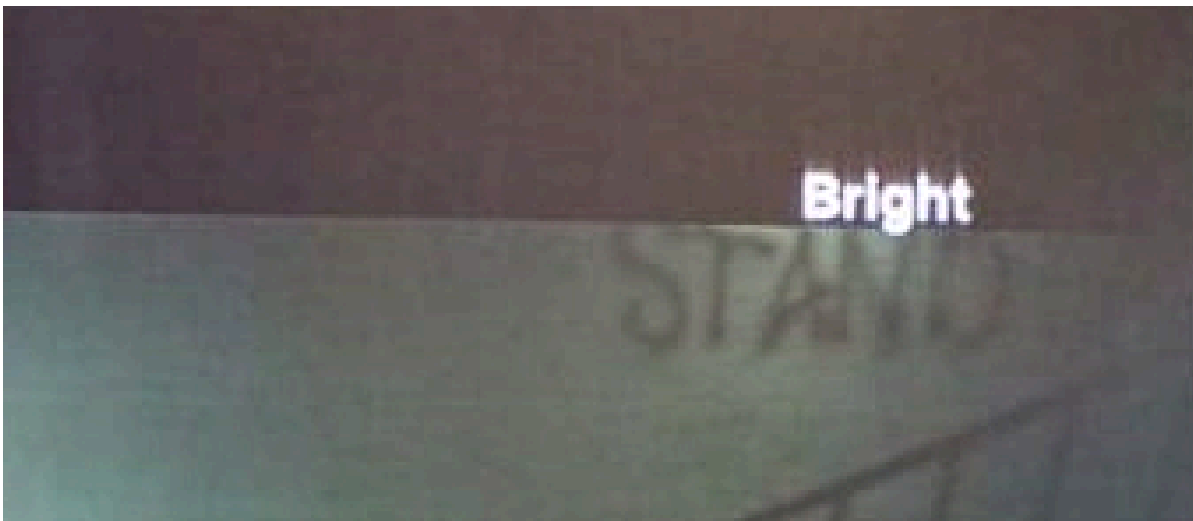

La Gioconda, da Vinci.

Zechariah 14:4 On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south.

Da Vinci's most iconic work, popularly known as the Monalisa, is a woman pictured right in front of a valley in what seems like a patiently waiting pose and gesture. A connection with the valley and the two columns behind Christ in the Last Supper is related to the Twin Towers. This we will confirm with more coincidences in a further chapter where coincidence occurs with da Vinci's Last Supper, and Salvarore Mundi, and The Monalisa.

Zachariah 14:7 It will be a unique day—a day known only to the LORD—with no distinction between day and night. When evening comes, there will be light.

Zachariah 14:4 On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives

<https://archive.org/details/screen-recording-20251018-071425-magis-3>

The name Ward mirrors into the word draW a word which we can link to the word “fig” to “Figure” or to “picture”. In this case the coincidence with the word “stand” appears in the scene with the angelical number 3333 in Bright, and the biblical verse in Zechariah 14:4.

Zachariah 14:7 *It will be a unique day—a day known only to the Lord—with no distinction between day and night. When evening comes, there will be light.

Revelations 12:1 A great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet and a crown of twelve stars on her head.

An implied and metaphoric description of an eclipse is in the Christian bible in the book of Revelations 12:1, and the book of Zachariah 14:7.

John 8:7 So when they continued asking Him, He lifted Himself up and said unto them, “He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.”

The angelical numbers 3333 are both in the scene in Bright and this scene in The Matrix. The biblical verse in John 1:42 below, links the scene in the Last Samurai and The Matrix with rocks, or stones. Do take your time to review the scenes carefully with the video links below to fully grasp this coincidence (draW).

John 1:42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, He said, “Thou art Simon, the son of Jonah. Thou shalt be called Cephas” (which is by interpretation, “a stone”).

Genesis 2:22 And the rib which the Lord God had taken from man, made He a woman and brought her unto the man.

3333 The Matrix, and Bright. 2222 Risen. 1111 Dune II.

We can tie together this series of images by its numerology or sequence and the rock or stone, the word draW, and the words find out in Genesis 2:22.

John 8:7 So when they continued asking Him, He lifted Himself up and said unto them, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

The Great Prophecy.

715 157 517

We can tie together this series of images with the different combinations for the numbers 517. A connection is established with a prophecy, a rock and a feminine nature.

Zechariah 14:4 On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south.

WTC north and south towers.

Zechariah 14:4 On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south.

The split of the valley is interpreted by many in Christianity and Judaism as an earthquake, but given the metaphoric elements present in the Bible, the fall of the Twin Towers could generate a tremor similar as described in these religions. Removing the two columns in The Last Supper, will leave a valley behind Christ just as described in Zechariah's prophecy.

Revelation 7:1 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth to prevent any wind from blowing on the land or on the sea or on any tree. 2 Then I saw another angel coming up from the east, having the seal of the living God. He called out in a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm the land and the sea: 3 “Do not harm the land or the sea or the trees until we put a seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God.” 4 Then I heard the number of those who were sealed: 144,000 from all the tribes of Israel.

Genesis 3:3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of paradise, God hath commanded us that we should not eat; and that we should not touch it, lest perhaps we die.

Genesis 3:7 And the eyes of them both were opened: and when they perceived themselves to be naked, they sewed together fig leaves, and made themselves aprons.

Luke 21:29 And He spoke to them a parable: “Behold the fig tree and all the trees”.

The reference to “trees” in the holy scriptures, calls to our attention that a mystic element could be hidden in the “trees” for there are no reasons in Revelations 7:1 to make reference about saving trees unless of course the reference is to number three, present in Genesis three three.

Archaeologist J. Eric S. Even so, the practice is so well established among Maya [epigraphers and other students of the Maya, that to change it would cause more harm than its perpetuation.^[2] The current practice of referring to the current baktun as "baktun 13" or "thirteenth baktun" may stand, even though it is properly the fourteenth baktun. Alternatively, the first baktun could instead be referred to as the 0th or null to avoid this ambiguity.^[citation needed]

Zechariah 14:4 On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south.

Revelation 7: 4 Then I heard the number of those who were sealed: 144,000 from all the tribes of Israel.

A numeric coincidence occurs with the end of the 12th baktun on the summer solstice 2012, Zechariah's prophecy and the number of those sealed from the tribes of Israel in the book of Revelations. All the numerology seems to be indicating that those sealed from the tribes of Israel are not a number of people, but rather a moment in time where this coincidence will come to fruition, namely the beginning of the 13th Baktun of the Maya calendar.

Art

Before the arrival of cinematography, art was the only media available to convey visual messages. In this chapter we will study the way some of the great masters of the Renaissance conveyed some of the most important biblical messages through their works of art.

Self portrait Leonardo da Vinci

The Last Supper da Vinci.

The Last Supper Giampetrino.

The Leonardeschi were the large group of artists who worked in the studio of, or under the influence of, Leonardo da Vinci. They were artists of Italian Renaissance painting, although his influence extended to many countries within Europe.

As a teenager, da Vinci was enrolled as an apprentice in the studio of Andrea del Verrocchio in Florence by his father, Ser Piero di Antonio di Ser Piero di Ser Guido da Vinci, a wealthy notary. In 1472, Leonardo joined the Guild of St Luke and eventually, he qualified as a master by this important guild. Da Vinci left the studio of del Verrocchio in late 1477 as an independent artist. Da Vinci continued to live in the same quarters as del Verrocchio and continued to collaborate on many projects.

The extent to which da Vinci and his followers registered biblical accuracy was remarkable for the time. This group of artists can be credited with keeping the true essence of the holy scriptures from being lost forever.

Many hidden messages can be found in hand gestures, colors, and items in the paintings of the great masters of the Renaissance.

A much detailed explanation of the approach to the New Times is explained in our log, how the old masters of the Renaissance understood the secrets hidden between lines in the bible, and how they used their works of art to transmit their comprehension of the codec in the sacred scriptures.

In an era where speaking outside the lines of an established church meant a death sentence, these artists found a way to leave their knowledge in their paintings.

Through symbolism and the art of the occult, this knowledge was left in their paintings to explain many of the hidden messages within the sacred passages.

These works of art survived their time and endure to this day and probably into perpetuity.

Archduke Leopold Wilhelm in his Painting Gallery in Brussels, David Teniers II 1650.

The creases in the table cloth of The Last Supper, seem to have the exact proportions to the rectangles found in the Sun Gate in Pumapunku, also both ends of the table cloth are strangely tied with a “knot”.

Traditionally known as the apostle Bartholomew (in green) is the only apostle wearing a robe with a “knot”. The Name Bartholomew is a name that derives from the words; bar which is Aramaic for "son" and tholomew Greek meaning “war”, or in essence “son of war”. This coincidence indicates there is a connection between Mars the son of Jupiter and the god of war in the Roman religion, and apostle Bartholomew.

The strange position of his feet imply that attention needs to be paid to this apostle.

Similar sounding words with different meanings is one way these artists conveyed their messages. Understanding how a play on words can hide a secret, is key to unlocking some of the messages in their drawings. This is essential in order to see the big picture in their works.

The Resurrection

According to the Byzantine iconographic type, the Resurrection — as early as the eighth century — is portrayed primarily by the Descent of the Saviour into Hades. The Lord is depicted pulling up Adam and Eve out of their sepulchers while trampling upon the gates of Hades (death). In the background stand the Old Testament patriarchs, prophets, and other figures, including John the Forerunner, who announced Jesus' advent.

Theopanes 16 century.

*In order to understand why this iconography exists only in the Eastern or Orthodox Church we must first understand why the Roman Church separated from the original five churches known as the Pentarchy. What were the reasons for the separation known as the Great Schism and what was changed in the Roman Catholic church after it separated. An impossible feat to explain and prove in detail in a three hundred page document, meant to establish the reasons for a new world spiritual order, however all the coincidences and the complete explanation are in the ten thousand page theological mission The True Religion manuscript.*

Resurrection Chora Monastery, Constantinople.

The feminine attributes da Vinci gave John the Baptist are obvious once we understand why these two currents of christianity separated.

The Orthodox or Eastern Church depicts the resurrection of Christ as an event shared by a masculine and a feminine character, traditionally Adam and Eve.

A mammal (from Latin mamma 'breast') is a vertebrate animal of the class Mammalia. Mammals are characterized by the presence of milk-producing mammary glands for feeding their young, a broad neocortex region of the brain, fur or hair and three middle ear bones. These characteristics distinguish them from reptiles and birds, from which their ancestors diverged in the Carboniferous Period over 300 million years ago. Around 6,640 extant species of mammals have been described and divided into 27 orders. The study of mammals is called mammalogy.

Cock is a common English slang word for the human penis. It is asserted to have been in use as early as 1450. The term has given rise to a wide range of derived terms, such as cockblock, cocksucker, and cocktease, and is also often invoked in double entendres involving words and phrases that contain the phoneme but without originating from the slang term, such as cockfighting, cockpit, cocktail, and cock a doodle doo.

Probably just short of heretic, these masters depicted their understanding of one of the most profound messages in the bible, "The land of Milk and Honey". Traditionally interpreted as the land of Israel, there is a possibility that a much broader interpretation or place could fit this description.

The word angel arrives in modern English from Old English engel and the Old French angele. Both of these derive from Late Latin angelus, which in turn was borrowed from Late Greek ἄγγελος angelos (messenger or message). Applying a mirror effect is the suggested message of this painting, just as we did in the scenes in the films: Tenet, Risen and Don't Look Up.

We can actually see a mirror effect along with a very particular numerology in this scene of the movie Knowing. A mirror is present in this scene and the numbers 4321 mirror into 1234. Implied messages occur in mysticism or occultism in this manner. The question we have to ask ourselves is who created it? Is the message telling us to look for mirrored numbers or images?

The sequence of the angelic numbers 1234 generally carries the message to “Go” or “Carry on”.

Salvator Mundi, da Vinci. A glass sphere is present in this masterpiece.

2815

*A number synchronicity occurs between these two scenes at 2815 in both movie's timelines. Visual coincidence occurs in the scene with the image of the magnifying glass, and its resemblance to the glass sphere in da Vinci's Salvator Mundi.*

<https://youtu.be/2aFjq4lzyN4>

In the movie Star Trek into Darkness, we can see a numeric synchronicity with the license plate 3824 in Tenet, and also visual coincidence occurs with another magnifying glass. These three movies and Salvator Mundi, are tied together in synchronicity to establish how a higher authority communicates with us, and where it wants us to look or see.

The tree dots or stars are traditionally associated with the constellation of Orion, and the Pyramids of Giza.

The Archer, the constellation of Orion, the three stars are traditionally linked to Orion's Belt.

Cintamani Stone, in Buddhist and Hindu religions a crystal like stone is also depicted in some of their traditions. In this painting the stone is held in a very particular way.

East

The Holy Grail is traditionally believed by Christians to have been used by Jesus Christ in the last supper. The Holy Grail is a central symbol in the Eucharist, the Christian ritual of sharing bread and wine. However no depiction of the Holy Grail is present in da Vinci's fresco. Could the great master have forgotten to include such an iconic item in his painting or was it intentionally left out to tell us something?

Saint John the Evangelist, Francisco Pacheco 1608.

Pacheco depicted his painting of Saint John holding the Holy Grail with what seems like a lizard-like creature in it.

Saint John the Evangelist, Francisco de Zurbarán 1598-1664.

De Zurbarán's work also includes the Holy Grail and a "winged" creature in it; in both paintings, Saint John seems to be holding two fingers.

Saint John the Evangelist, Alonzo Cano 1635.

Cano's depiction of Saint John follows the same pattern as Pacheco's and de Zurbaran's work.

Saint John the Evangelist, El Greco (Domenico Theotokopoulos) 1541-1614.

El Greco's work is no different.

Saint John the Evangelist, Cristobal Llorens 1590.

In Lloren's work, instead of holding two fingers, two angels are added to his painting.

Saint John the Evangelist, Jusepe de Ribera 1607.

In de Ribera's work, Saint John holds the Holy Grail in a very specific manner.

Saint John the Evangelist, Abraham Jansens 1575.

All these grand masters depict Saint John wearing a red robe.

Why would all these grand masters of the Renaissance add a dragon in their paintings of Saint John the Evangelist? The connection between the missing Holy Grail in the Last Supper, and the strange creature in these paintings indicate not only that a hidden message is present, but also a biblical connection must be made to understand its meaning.

Revelations 12

1 A great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet and a crown of twelve stars on her head. 2 She was pregnant and cried out in pain as she was about to give birth. 3 Then another sign appeared in heaven: an enormous red dragon with seven heads and ten horns and seven crowns on its heads. 4 Its tail swept a third of the stars out of the sky and flung them to the earth. The dragon stood in front of the woman who was about to give birth, so that it might devour her child the moment he was born. 5 She gave birth to a son, a male child, who “will rule all the nations with an iron scepter.” And her child was snatched up to God and to his throne. 6 The woman fled into the wilderness to a place prepared for her by God, where she might be taken care of for 1,260 days. 7 And there was war in Heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

A metaphoric reference to an eclipse with the “woman clothed with the sun with the moon under her feet” is present in this verse. The dragon with seven heads can be both literally and metaphorically interpreted. A repetition with Michael and the dragon also reveals another clue.

In various Asian religious traditions, the Nāgas (Sanskrit: नाग, romanized: Nāga) are a divine, or semi-divine, race of half-human, half-serpent beings that reside in the netherworld (Patala), and can occasionally take human or part-human form, or are so depicted in art. Furthermore, nāgas are also known as dragons and water spirits. Usually depicted with the reincarnated Buddha. A coincidence which explains the connection between all the prophetic figures in world religions such as The Messiah, The Second Coming, The Mahdi, The Kalki, and Maitreya to name a few.

Mars and Venus - Adam and Eve

Fall of Man, Titian 1550. The snake is depicted as a boy or an angel in Titian's work.

Fall of Man, Rubens 1629. Ruben's version uses a "red" parrot to indicate the connection with the red robes, red dragon and the mystical meaning behind this biblical color.

The snake, depicted as a boy or a messenger, looks at both Adam and Eve in the two different versions of this painting. According to these two paintings for some reason a reference to a masculine and a feminine element is also present.

Mars and Venus, fresco found in Pompeii. Before the arrival of the Abrahamic religions, the dominant religions of the known world were the Greek and the Roman religions. Coinciding with most works of Adam and Eve from the Renaissance, Mars' hand is often depicted signaling Venu's breast. Did these artists try to tell us there is a connection between them?

Mars Venus, Herculaneum.

“Evangelization” during imperial times would occur through battle and war. A warring central figure was more fitting with the customs and traditions for the time (evangelization today occurs through a book). In the Roman religion, Mars' consort was traditionally Venus the goddess of love and in the Greek religion Ares and Aphrodite had the same attributes.

How religions evolved to fit man's coming of age is also explained in our theological mission.

Genesis 49:9 Judah is a lion's whelp: to the prey, my son, thou art gone up: resting thou hast couched as a lion, and as a lioness, who shall rouse him?

Depending on the version of the bible, a reference a masculine and a feminine elements are present in the arrival of the Messianic Lion of Judah.

Genesis 3

1 Now the serpent was more subtle than any beast of the field which the LORD God had made. And he said unto the woman, "Yea, hath God said, 'Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden'?"

2 And the woman said unto the serpent, "We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden,

3 but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, 'Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.'"

4 And the serpent said unto the woman, "Ye shall not surely die;

5 for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil."

6 And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof and ate, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he ate.

7 And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves things to gird about.

Luke 21:29 And He spoke to them a parable: "Behold the fig tree and all the trees".

The use of etymology to hide or convey messages is also explained in our theological mission. Sometimes literally other times figuratively, when referenced in the sacred scriptures, the hidden interpretation can be revealed once these mystic ways to hide messages are established.

Even though there is no mention of the actual fruit in the scriptures we can assume it was fig for the scriptures are very specific of the type of leaves they used to cover themselves as coming from a fig tree.

Meaning of "go figure" and its origin?

Ask Question

Asked 14 years, 2 months ago Modified 4 years, 10 months ago Viewed 69k times

23 Sometimes, people use a colloquial phrase of "it figures" or "go figure", which is kind of an acknowledgement of the correctness of a fact, or something like that. It's also sometimes abbreviated even further to just "Figures" or "Go fig", depending on the speaker.

Examples of the phrase in context:

It figures means it makes sense or it is expected.

16 Go figure expresses amazement or disbelief.

EDIT: figure in these senses would be similar to calculate or come to a sensible conclusion. So it figures would suggest that a situation is reasonably expected.

And go figure would suggest (rhetorically) that the audience should seek to find sense in the situation (and probably won't find it).

Go figure A Yinglish variation of the Yiddish Gey vays ("go know"). 1. A expression of surprise that something unexpected happened. [Example:] "Go figure the engine would explode!" 2. A confession of ignorance. [Example:] "Go figure he was a crook!" 3. How could I have anticipated something as crazy as that?! [Example:] "Go figure her brother was a prize-fighter!" 4. Could anyone in the world have been expected to make allowances for such an improbability?! [Example:] "Go figure the whole building would sink right into the bog!"

And here is Chapman & Kipfer's:

go figure v phr To try to understand, esp something contradictory or astonishing: Evidence that drug abuse and street crime derive principally from absence of strong fathers. Go figure—Nation/ Who knows. Go figure people—Scott Turow {fr Yiddish gey vays, "go know"}

"Go Fig" is an american slang meaning "go figure out" or "go find out".

Rubens's version of Adam and Eve, depicts the fruit as an apple; however the "fig" leaves are only present on Eve.

The rebuke of Adam and Eve, Natoire 1740. Again “fig” leaves on both Adam and Eve.

The origin of slang GOAT (in a field) for the "greatest of all time"

Asked 2 years, 9 months ago Modified 4 months ago Viewed 6k times

Ask Question

▲ Lately, I have seen GOAT being used for people. Like:

1. Lionel Messi is called the GOAT.
2. Muhammad Ali boxed his way into our hearts and will forever be known as GOAT.
3. John may end up being the GOAT.

How did the acronym GOAT originate and when was it used for the first time?

Can we use this word for females or for people in any other fields like sciences, arts, etc. apart from sports?

word-usage etymology slang acronyms

The use of symbols is not limited to just a visual perspective. In this case the acronym for the word "goat" is also a description of the characters involved.

Charles Joseph Natoire 1700 - 1777

A masculine and a feminine figure on the "goat" in Natoire's work, and on the feminine figure a crown of "leaves". Is there a message in the angels?

Christ and the Adulteress, Cranach 1472 - 1553

Two.

Christ and the Adulteress, Polidoro da Lanciani 1545.

The hand gestures and finger pointing in this painting indicates a connection between Christ and a feminine nature.

Crist and the Adulteress, Mattia Petri circa 1640.

A hand pointing at the adulteress breasts seems to convey the nature of the feminine element.

Mars and Venus, casa di Sallustio Pompeii.

Message? Messenger?

Esteban Márquez de Velasco 1666.

Marquez painted "messengers" next to the masculine and feminine figures.

Lady with an ermine, da Vinci 1489.

"Weasel" is slang for a sneaky, untrustworthy, or dishonest person. It can also be used as a verb, meaning to act or move in a sly or sneaky way, as in "to weasel out of" an obligation, or as an adjective, meaning, vague or misleading language used to avoid making a direct claim or to create a false impression.

The Columns

Christ and the Adulteress, Anton Van Den Heuvel 17 century.

In order to understand what messages each element holds a theological and historical approach must be used. ♂

San Luigi dei Francesi Fresco, Charles Natoire circa 1750.

We can see a "Roman" soldier pointing to a column in this part of the fresco.

In the movie Alexander, a column is also present at 13:10 a reference to Mars and oct 13.

Ares Villa Hadrian. A coincidence with columns occurs with this statue, Van Den Heuvel and Natoire's works.

The shape of the shield, which is basically a plate, will clarify other hidden messages in further chapters.

There is an obvious reference to columns in both works.

The crossed hands are also present in The Last Supper by da Vinci.

1310

Hands crossing also occurs in the movie Tenet, its numerology will point to Oct 13, 2020 the day when Mars was in opposition.

Mars to reach opposition October 13

Posted by Bruce McClure

October 12, 2020

When Mars reaches opposition, Earth is between Mars and the sun. Mars and the sun shine on opposite sides of our sky. Visualization via Kel Elkins/NASA.

On October 13, 2020, Mars comes to opposition in Earth's sky for the first time since July 27, 2018. In its smaller orbit around the sun, Earth will pass more or less between the sun and Mars at around 23:00 UTC (7 p.m. EDT, 6 p.m. CDT, 5 p.m. MDT and 4 p.m. PDT); translate UTC to your time. When Mars is at opposition, the sun and Mars are on opposite sides of Earth's sky. Mars rises in the east at sunset, is at its highest at midnight, and sets in the west at sunrise. At this year's opposition, in particular, Mars will be a fiery red and very wonderful sight all night long. Mars will be brighter at this year's opposition than it will be again until the year 2035.

Opposition is a special time for any superior planet. Around the time of opposition, as Earth sweeps between the planet and the sun, that planet shines at its brightest in Earth's sky for that earthly year.

Not all Mars' oppositions are equal, however. This one is a very good one.

Mona Vana

The position of the hands and the separation of the index and middle fingers seem to indicate that there is something we need to pay attention to.

Mona Vanna, Joos van Cleve 1485.

Joos van Cleve's Naked Mona fingers, apparently directs our attention to her jewels.

Mona Vanna, Salai circa 1500.

Salai's Naked Mona seems to be calling attention to the color or particular length of her hair.

Mona Flora, Carlo Antonio Procaccini circa 1500.

A reference to the flowers is the theme with Procaccini painting. Unlike a photograph, in a painting no illustration happens in vain, it all carries a purpose. In order to understand Procaccini's message we will need to look at da Vinci's Last Supper.

Just as the depictions of Mars and Venus in Pompeii and Herculean, da Vinci and his followers hid the masculine and feminine message in a very clever way.

The connections between Salai's Naked Mona, da Vinci's Mona Lisa and Salvator Mundi, are obvious when they are placed together. Two feminine elements are present linking Salvatore Mundi.

Joos Van Cleve's Naked Mona makes a reference to jewels.

Salvator Mundi's clear Jewel.

John the Baptist's clear jewel in The Last Supper, seems to match Salvator Mundi's in color.

draW.

This hand gesture apparently symbolizes the number two or something around the neck.

A dark colored jewel in the “breast position” apostle, hints at a clue to another element in The Last Supper.

The same colored jewel in Christ in The Last Supper, states the connection between the two.

A Grain of Salt

The apostle Judas, credited with selling out Jesus for 30 silver coins, is shown here holding a bag with the coins. A tipped over salt dispenser with his orange hand is conveying a message.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about the English-language idiom. For salt itself, see salt.

To take something with a "grain of salt" or "pinch of salt" is an English idiom that suggests to view something, specifically claims that may be misleading or unverified, with skepticism or not to interpret something literally.^[1]

In the old-fashioned English units of weight, a grain weighs approximately 65 mg, which is about how much table salt a person might pick up between the fingers as a pinch.

History [edit]

The phrase is thought to come from Pliny the Elder's Naturalis Historia, regarding the discovery of a recipe written by the Pontic king Mithridates to make someone immune to poison.^[2] One of the ingredients in the recipe was a grain of salt. Threats involving poison were thus to be taken "with a grain of salt", and therefore less seriously.

The phrase cum grano salis ("with a grain of salt") is not what Pliny wrote. It is constructed according to the grammar of modern European languages rather than Classical Latin. Pliny's actual words were addito salis grano ("after having added a grain of salt").

The Latin word sal (salis is the genitive) means both "salt" and "wit", thus the Latin phrase cum grano salis could be translated to either "with a grain of salt" or "with a grain of wit", actually to "with caution"/cautiously.^[3]

The phrase is typically said "with a pinch of salt" in British English and said "with a grain of salt" in American English.^[4]

A biblical interpretation of Judah in the Last Supper was at one point hidden or changed by the leadership of the Roman Catholic church of the time. This change has vilified the Jewish people for two thousand years as the people who “chose” to betray the Christian Messiah, a misrepresentation that needs to be revealed.

The secret behind Judas' betrayal is also explained in our theological mission. The 30 silver coins, their value at the time, and the fact whether these verses are true or not are revealed.

The different translations and its errors, from Hebrew to Greek to Latin, all the losses in interpretation, the historicity, the code and most importantly the changes in the holy scriptures have been subject to are also addressed and demonstrated with historical facts in the True Religion manuscript.

Again a 3824 coincidence will point out what to look for.

<https://youtu.be/amzuo9qCUa8>

Judas would be the one holding the bag with the 30 coins in the Last Supper.

Genesis 3:7 And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves things to gird about.

A connection to Carlo Antonio Procaccini's Mona Flora exists here and The Last Supper.

Genesis 3:7 And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves things to gird about.

In English, The word "saw" is the past tense of "to see" and "Sewed" is the past tense and past participle of the verb "to sew", meaning to stitch fabric. Both words are almost identically pronounced.

The Middle finger is a gesture used since Greek times to show “disapproval” or contempt.

Wink

Superimposing both drawings will yield a new set of secret messages hidden within these paintings.

A superimposed image of Christ in the Last Supper and The Monalisa, aligned with their eyes will reveal the reason why the hand is in a grabbing position and placement. The Monalisa's frame will align perfectly within the "grabbing" hand as if it's holding the drawing for us to see.

A confirmation that this is not an “accident” and it was intentionally placed within the hand, are the alignment of two glass objects in each edge of the frame.

Same "grab" gesture of a glass on the right side of Christ in the Last Supper.

We can see all the mystical elements in these images.

A secondary alignment with the orange hand and the strange looking glass vessel yields another message for us to see.

Its confirmation are the two perfectly aligned glasses.

Sliding Christ's hand under the female figure's crossed hands will yield another hidden message.

Placing Crist's hand below the crossed hands of the female image in the drawing, and on top of the plate (Mars' shield), will place the two figures in a very particular pose.

Every element in a painting has been meticulously planned and placed there for a reason, no detail is spared, but then the question remains, who did it? Is there divine intervention? If so... the question of free will comes to mind. Did they have any? True Religion will answer all these questions when the time is right.

In a loving pose, the placement of the female character on Christ's shoulder, describes the relationship between them. Its confirmation is the finger and again the hand along another frame in this drawing.

Isaiah 22:22 And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; so he shall open and none shall shut, and he shall shut and none shall open.

A perfectly aligned “pointing finger” and “grabbing hand” appear next to the window frame of The Last Supper.

Charles Joseph Natoire 1700 - 1777

A reference to a plate is present in Natoire work and Mars Ville Hadrian.

Once the glasses are superimposed, another revelation takes place. The orange hand aligns with the glass on the second image and seems to be reaching or grabbing the glass, a reference to the missing Holy Grail.

Superimposing the next set of glasses will yield a visual confirmation of the mystery in the glass objects present in the Last Supper.

What appears as the orange hand now reaching out for the glass vessel.

In these two images we can see Mona Lisa's frame aligned with the glass objects.

In these two images we can see the orange hand grabbing both glass objects.

Wink

 23 languages ▼

Article Talk

Read Edit View history Tools ▼

A wink is a facial expression made by briefly closing one eye.^[1] A wink is an informal mode of non-verbal communication usually signaling shared hidden knowledge or intent. However, it is ambiguous by itself and highly dependent upon additional context, without which a wink could become misinterpreted or even nonsensical. For example, in some regions of the world, a wink may be considered rude or offensive. Depending on the relationship of the people involved, a wink could possibly constitute a sexual gesture.^{[2][3]}

Dutch comedian André van Duin winking, 1969

General overview and meanings [edit]

Winking^[4] is one of the more subtle gestures, usually involving eye contact between those involved. In most cases it is only meant to be known by the sender and their intended receivers, but in some cases can be more widely intended.

Single wink [edit]

A single wink is usually a friendly gesture implying a degree of solidarity or intimacy.

A typical use of the wink is to quietly send a message that third parties are not aware of. For example, while person A is lying to person B or deliberately teasing them, they might wink at person C as a means of indicating the fact to C and incorporating them in the "conspiracy". Alternatively, if person A is joking or teasing person B in a friendly way, person A may wink directly at person B as a way to suggest to them that their own (A's) words are to be taken as a joke. It is also possible for person A to use winking in order to secretly imply to person B that the words or actions of some third party should not be taken seriously (for example, because the third party is joking or lying).

Gale Henry winking, 1919

A wink could also be used as a somewhat humorous way to express sympathy, solidarity, and encouragement, especially when the winker is trying to put the receiver at ease in a situation where they might feel nervous or uncomfortable. In such cases a wink has a meaning very similar to that of a "thumbs up".

In some cultures it is often a sexual interest, or flirtatious manner, during momentary eye contact. This is often followed by a smile and usually a smile from the receiver if it is accepted or approved by them, sometimes combined with blushing if they are embarrassed. A smile from the receiver sometimes—but not always—indicates (sexual) interest in the winker. For example, in the Wodaabe tribe in the Niger area, someone who wants to engage in sexual activities can wink at a person. If the person continues to look at them, they will slightly move their lip corner, showing the way to the bush the person is expected to have sex with them in.^[5]

In particularly difficult or strenuous situations, Person A may wink at Person B to non-verbally communicate that Person B can trust Person C. An extreme example of this could be undercover cops when one does something otherwise questionable.

Double wink [edit]

Like a single wink but more emphatic, two winks in a row may be used by the sender as a subtle way to imply that something said by the sender, immediately beforehand, was "sneaky", "tricky", "misleading", or "untrue" to the receiver. In English-speaking countries, this has also given rise to the expression of vocally saying "wink wink" while winking—or sometimes while not even winking at all, in which case the sender is not communicating the "trickiness" of their words to a third party, but to the receiver, and is thus signalling that their words should not be taken literally but as a hint or euphemism.

Glass

Salvatore Mundi.

Superimposing Salvatore Mundi and The Monalisa will yield yet another clue in our quest.

A “nose” alignment of both faces will yield also an alignment of the right frame of both paintings.

When compared with Salvatore Mundi, we can relate why da Vinci painted a glass sphere and its relationship with other glass objects in The Last Supper and the frame.

A glass sphere and a hand indicating the number two.

A "clear" piece of jewelry is present in the female figure.

Also a second piece of "clear" jewelry in Salvatore Mundi establishing their relationship.

"she's in great pain"

Genesis 35:18 And it came to pass as her soul was in departing (for she died), that she called his name Benoni (that is, The son of my sorrow), but his father called him Benjamin (that is, The son of the right hand).

We will study the significance behind the numerology 5:18 in a future chapter.

Giovanny Donato de Montofarno 1495.

As odd as it may seem da Vinci never painted the Crucifixion, given his scope of works it would seem unlikely the greatest master of all time would forget or leave out a painting of the Crucifixion unless it was intentionally done.

As we have learned by now, leaving out the Crucifixion as part of his works, just as he left out the Holy Grail in the Last Supper, also conveys a message.

This fresco by Montofarno was painted in front of da Vinci's Last Supper. A careful study of the elements present in it will yield more messages of these great masters and the wisdom they attained through careful reading and decoding of the Holy Scriptures. This and much more is revealed in our theological mission.

Isaiah 53

1 Who hath believed our report? And to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

2 For He shall grow up before Him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground. He hath no form nor comeliness, and when we shall see Him, there is no beauty that we should desire Him.

3 He is despised and rejected of men, a Man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief. And we hid as it were our faces from Him; He was despised, and we esteemed Him not.

4 Surely He hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows; yet we did esteem Him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

5 But He was wounded for our transgressions; He was bruised for our iniquities. The chastisement of our peace was upon Him, and with His stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all.

7 He was oppressed, and He was afflicted, yet He opened not his mouth; He is brought as a lamb to the slaughter; and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so He openeth not His mouth.

8 He was taken from prison and from judgment; and who shall declare His generation? For He was cut off out of the land of the living; for the transgression of My people was He stricken.

9 And He made His grave with the wicked, and with the rich in His death, because He had done no violence, neither was any deceit in His mouth.

10 Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise Him; He hath put Him to grief. When thou shalt make His soul an offering for sin, He shall see His seed, He shall prolong His days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in His hand.

11 He shall see of the travail of His soul, and shall be satisfied. By His knowledge shall My righteous Servant justify many, for He shall bear their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I divide Him a portion with the great, and He shall divide the spoil with the strong, because He hath poured out His soul unto death. And He was numbered with the transgressors; and He bore the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

The Knife

In this image a “hidden” hand with an overlapping middle finger over the index finger seems to be reaching for a knife.

And again the hand gesture seems to be placing our focus on the gems on this bracelet and the color red linking it to the glass of wine.

A knife with a very particular tip seems to be pointing at the apostle with the two hands in a “grab” position.

The bottom of this knife seems to have a similar shape as the pearls in the bracelet.

The hidden foot's sandal seems to have the same shape or profile as the tip of the knife, implying something is hidden in this apostle.

A reference to the female anatomy is hidden in this image.

The Knife, the sandal, and both jewels combine to make a reference to a feminine element.

The masculine and the feminine element in the Resurrection iconography in the Eastern Orthodox Church is often interpreted as a representation of Adam and Eve. This and other traditions and symbols did not survive the Great Schism when the Roman Catholic Church separated from the original five churches. During the Roman Church's governance many unorthodox practices took place. Practices such as the sale of indulgences or paying for the forgiveness of sin. These practices lead to further divisions in the Roman Catholic Church and the emergence of many of today's different christian's denominations among others as Lutheranism, Protestantism and Adventists.

Fresco in Eastern Orthodox Church Patriarchate Jerusalem.

Both masculine and feminine elements rising out of their coffins indicate the duality present at the time of resurrection, a tradition that could explain the nature of the second coming. However the lack of this tradition in the Roman Catholic church limits its followers from further understanding the real nature of the second coming.

These traditions were discovered and secretly embedded by da Vinci's and his followers in their works for future generations to discover. In an era where heresy was punished by death, da Vinci and his followers devised a symbolic way to communicate his knowledge of the Roman Catholic Church's corruption of the traditions that governed the original church since its inception two thousand years ago.

Texas flooding death toll reaches 95 in Kerr County — with more than 150 still missing

Before and after satellite images reveal destruction of deadly Texas floods

At least 95 people have been confirmed dead in the devastating Kerr County flooding, visibly emotional Texas officials announced in a grim update Wednesday.

Of those who died, 59 are adults and 36 are children.

At least 161 people are still missing in the county — including five girls from Camp Mystic, where at least 27 campers and counselors have died, said Kerr County Sheriff Larry Leitha.

Sheriff Larry Leitha's team delivered the grim update on Wednesday morning.

"The recent numbers reported break my heart, and they break the heart of everyone up here, everyone who has been working since July the Fourth," Kerrville Mayor Joe Herring Jr. told reporters, choking up as he thanked the responders and community for their help in the recovery efforts.

Officials asked local residents to withhold from using heavy equipment to clear large piles of debris from their properties until the piles have been checked by a search party.

"It's possible there could be victims in there, and we don't want to disturb them," Kerrville police community services officer Jonathan Lamb said.

Officials asked local residents to withhold from using heavy equipment to clear large piles of debris from their properties until the piles have been checked by a search party.

"It's possible there could be victims in there, and we don't want to disturb them," Kerrville police community services officer Jonathan Lamb said.

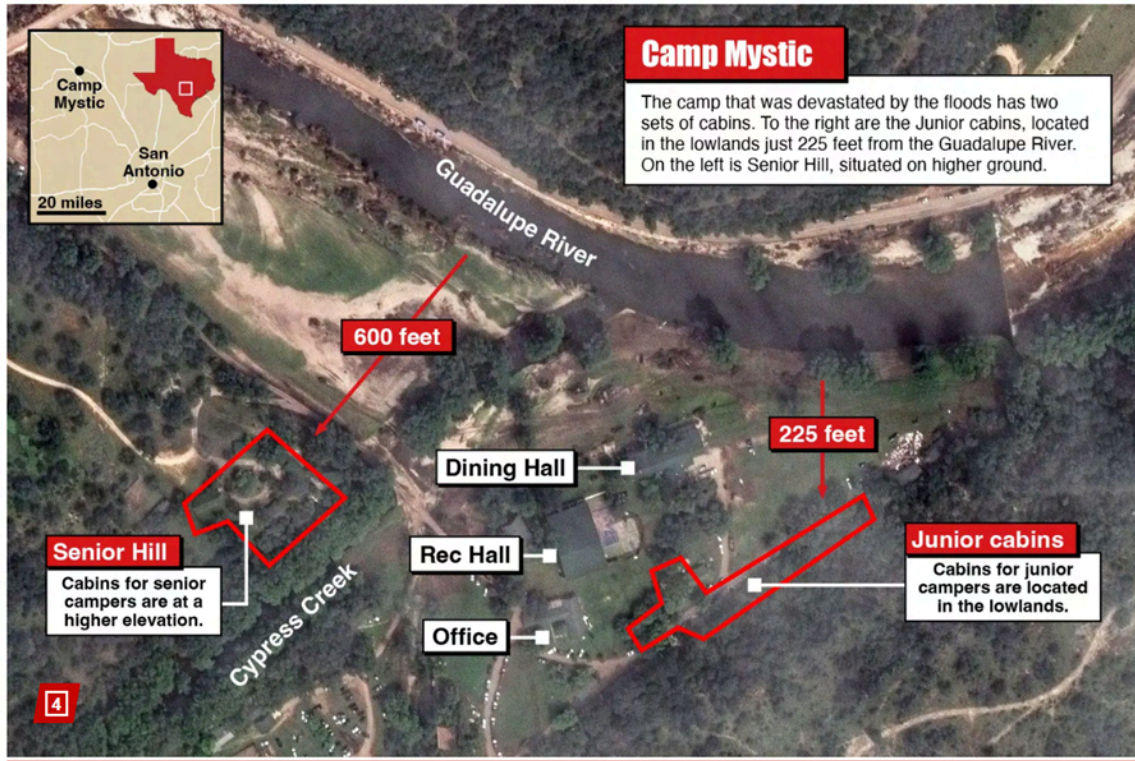

Tensions were high at the press conference, with frustration mounting as local officials have been unable to answer questions about how they prepared for and responded to the July 4 flash flood.

Mayor Herring called out reporters present for yelling at officials during Tuesday's update on the tragedy — which he called a "disaster" and "embarrassing."

When some reporters began raising their voices at the same time on Wednesday, he snapped.

"Listen, people are yelling," he said.

July 4th is America's Independence, a day after Bielorusia's independence, and a day before Venezuela's independence. A sequence of dates where independent is the message.

One reporter began to protest that Herring only offered to answer three questions, but the mayor spat back: "Guess what, you're in Kerrville, and we're going to do it my way."

The Guadalupe River surged some 26 feet in just 45 minutes early Friday morning when most of the people in the area were asleep.

When questioned about when the county's Code Red was activated, Sheriff Leitha declined to comment — but said he would answer all questions once the community moves beyond the original aftermath.

"I believe those questions need to be answered, to the family of the missed loved ones, to the public, you know, to the people that put me in this office," Leitha said. "I want that answer, and we're going to get that answer."

"We're not running, we're not going to hide from anything that's going to be checked into at a later time," he added.

Code Red is a web-based system that alerts citizens by email or on their cell phones — but some areas in Kerr County are known for spotty cell service, KHOU reported.

The catastrophic flooding is one of the deadliest events for US children in the past 100 years. Of those confirmed dead, 27 had attended Camp Mystic — and all-girls Christian summer camp located on the river bank.

The word mystic implies something is occult or hidden.

Matthew 24

23 Then if any man shall say unto you, 'Lo, here is Christ,' or 'there,' believe it not.

24 For there shall arise false christs and false prophets and shall show great signs and wonders, insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Therefore, if they shall say unto you, 'Behold, He is in the desert!' go not forth; or 'Behold, He is in the secret chambers!' believe it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east and shineth even unto the west, so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be.

28 For wheresoever the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

The words Hidden, Code, a series of “Me” and the number 3824 occurs in 9 different movies. What are the probabilities this series of coincidences could have happened by just chance? Could they have been man made? Or is this a new form of visual communication from a higher realm?

https://youtu.be/FOXGfHkF_As

Also a repetition of the number 42 is present in these two scenes thus completing the 3824 coincidence with the number 38 in the prior page. The angelic number 3333 is also present to confirm these coincidences.

Once again the word Me is in both these scenes. The message is in the underlined subtitle in the Matrix Reloaded. Dates in many parts of the world are written day/month/year, coinciding with Mars' opposition. We will discuss the relationship between the numbers 1310 and 3110 in chapter 31.

One of the mystical symbolism of the number eight is a conjoined 33. The name David is present in this scene three times.

Luke 21:29 And He spoke to them a parable: “Behold the fig tree and all the trees”.

The term "House of David" refers to the royal dynasty established by King David, and extends to his descendants. Mashiach Bendavid in Judaism is the traditional name used to identify the Messiah. Through coincidence and numerology we can establish this is the case.

The Door

In 1652 the church put a door through the wall of Da Vinci's Last Supper directly underneath Jesus, damaging irreparably the area where Jesus' feet used to be. A door with a similar shape happens to be opening in scene 3824 in the movie Tenet.

John 01:51 And He said unto him, "Verily, verily I say unto you, hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man."

Some argue that the reason the door was placed under Jesus' feet could have been to reinforce the perception that the painting centers on Jesus. However after all the coincidences we've seen there is a more obvious reason or message present.

In the movie The Golden Army, another door and a coincidence with numerology occurs with the open door scene in the movie Tenet. This time the coincidence happens with the date of the Horse Sacrifice to Mars October 15, and the number 44:44 which is a very special angelical number. Both scenes will also coincide with bible verse John 01:51

As we progress in this revelation more numbers will coincide to tie in more ways to connect, however attempting to do all this explaining in a 333 document would be impossible due to the fact that there are hundreds of these connections in the True Religion manuscript.

4444 1015

The messages present in The Last Supper and the coincidences with different movies, indicate and confirm these revelations are of a supernatural nature. The more confirmations there are, the more attention is merited and the more important the message is.

The Third Temple

19. THE THIRD TEMPLE

As set forth in Ezekiel Chapters 40-43

© 1996 MPL. Reproduction prohibited

This diagram attempts to present the layout of Ezekiel's Temple as closely as possible to the way Rashi must have understood it.

For a comprehensive analysis of the Temple's design and detailed descriptions of its elements, as well as details regarding the design of this diagram, see ArtScroll Yechezkel/Ezekiel, by Rabbi Moshe Eisemann.

<https://themitzvahproject.org/building-the-third-temple/>

According to sacred scripture in Judaism, The Messiah is tasked with rebuilding the Third Temple. Whether literally or metaphorically speaking, coincidence should also give us a clue if one instance or the other will be the case.

According to the prophet Ezequiel, the floorplan for the Third Temple coincides with a “stadium” in the state of Florida USA, possibly the only stadium in the United States and possibly the whole world with such a floor plan. This coincidence merits a closer study of the engineering and architectural design present in this building.

The Ten Lost Tribes of Israel were those from tribes of Israel that were said to have been exiled from the Kingdom of Israel after it was conquered by the Neo-Assyrian Empire around 720 BCE. They were the following: Reuben, Simeon, Dan, Naphtali, Gad, Asher, Issachar, Zebulun, Manasseh, and Ephraim – all but Judah and Benjamin, both of which were based in the neighbouring Kingdom of Judah, and therefore survived until the Babylonian siege of Jerusalem in 587 BCE. Alongside Judah and Benjamin was part of the Tribe of Levi, a total of 13 tribes.

The Alhambra Decree (also known as the Edict of Expulsion; Spanish: Decreto de la Alhambra, Edicto de Granada) was an edict issued on 31 March 1492 by the joint Catholic Monarchs of Spain, Isabella I of Castile and Ferdinand II of Aragon, ordering the expulsion of practising Jews from the Crowns of Castile and Aragon and its territories and possessions by 31 July of that year.

During that same time, Queen Isabella I and King Ferdinand II, agreed to sponsor a journey west. Christopher Columbus left Castile in August 1492 with three ships and made landfall in the Americas on the 12th of October (13th of October in Asia), ending the period of human habitation in the Americas now referred to as the pre-Columbian era. His landing place was an island in the Bahamas, known by its native inhabitants as Guanahani.

Coincidentally the same year jews were expelled from Spain, the new world was discovered. Apparently this coincidence seems to be pointing in one direction, perhaps the promised land.

📍 1303 NW 5th St

John 21:11 Simon Peter went up and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty three; and though there were so many, yet the net was not broken.

Net fishing in large quantities usually is counted by weight and not units. Seldom do fishermen count a large catch. Is there another secret hidden in numerology in these verses? The actual cross of 13 and 5 sign creates the number 153. Combined with the floor plans of the Third Temple according to Ezequiel, and the unique layout of the stadium in the city of Miami, a very compelling coincidence or message is being conveyed here.

The unlikely likeness of these coincidences leave very little doubt that the actual promised land could be a country where people from all over the world have been migrating to since the birth of this nation.

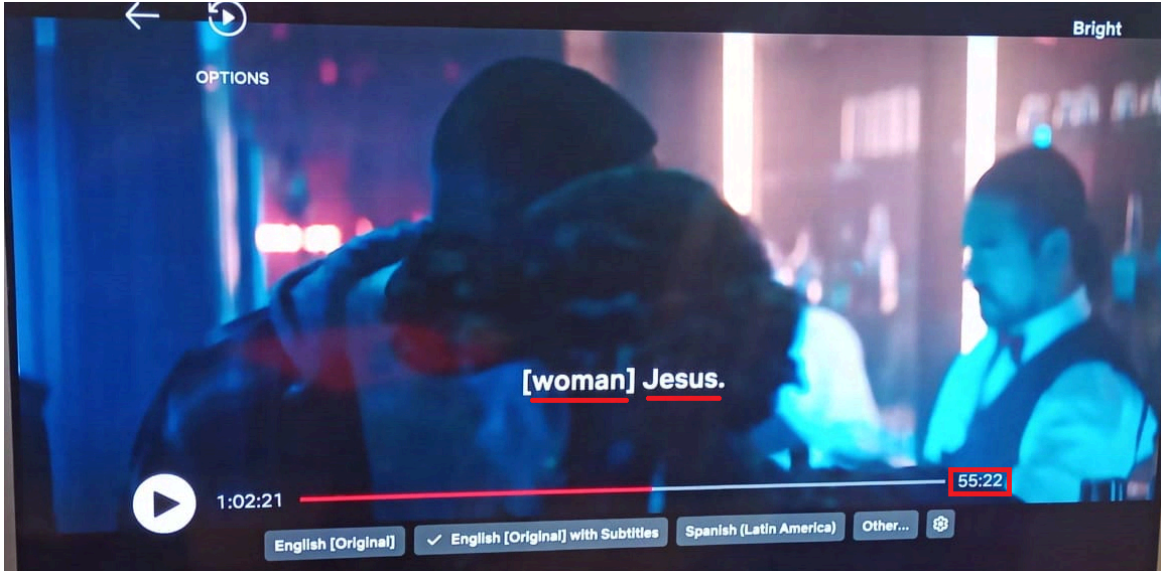

The furlong was historically viewed as being equivalent to the Roman stade (stadium), which in turn derived from the Greek system. In the Roman system, there were 625 feet to the stadium, eight stadia to the mile, and 1 ½ miles to the league. A league was considered to be the distance a man could walk in one hour, and the mile. The actual word "stadium" is used in the Spanish translation of Revelations 21:16.

Revelaciones 21:16 Y la ciudad está situada y puesta en cuadro, y su largura es tanta como su anchura: y él midió la ciudad con la caña, doce mil estadios: la largura y la altura y la anchura de ella son iguales.

Embedded in the design of the parking lots in this stadium, the inner walls resemble visually the numbers 55 and 22. This could all be just a visual coincidence, however given all the previous coincidences this could also be another set of clues that will explain why this is possibly the long awaited Third Temple.

5522

<https://youtu.be/oSdZCHkZgyA>

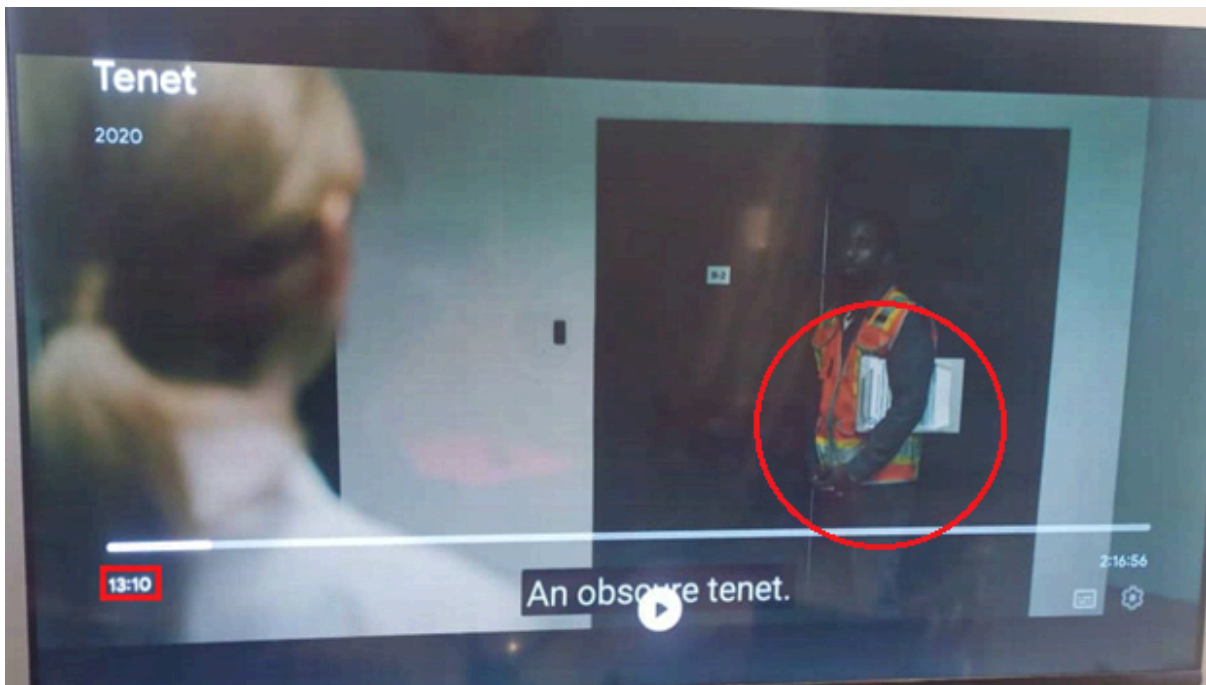

<https://youtu.be/eXI90ZOclbE>

We can further confirm this could be the case in the stadium and the iconography in the Orthodox Church, where both a male and a female element are present in the resurrection, and the numerology in the film Bright where the words Jesus, woman and man appear at 5522 in the movie's time line. Something essentially impossible by chance. Given all the coincidences we've seen so far, this can only have been created by a Higher Authority.

A tradition during Halloween is to celebrate this holiday wearing a costume, in other words in a disguise. A pumpkin is usually carved and displayed, its color symbolizes where some mystic elements may have been placed in this revelation, elements such as the orange hand in The Last Supper.

Genesis 49:9 Y'hudah is a lion's cub; my son, you stand over the prey. He crouches down and stretches like a lion; like a lioness, who dares to provoke him?

Genesis 2:22 Then the LORD God made a woman from the rib he had taken out of the man, and he brought her to the man.

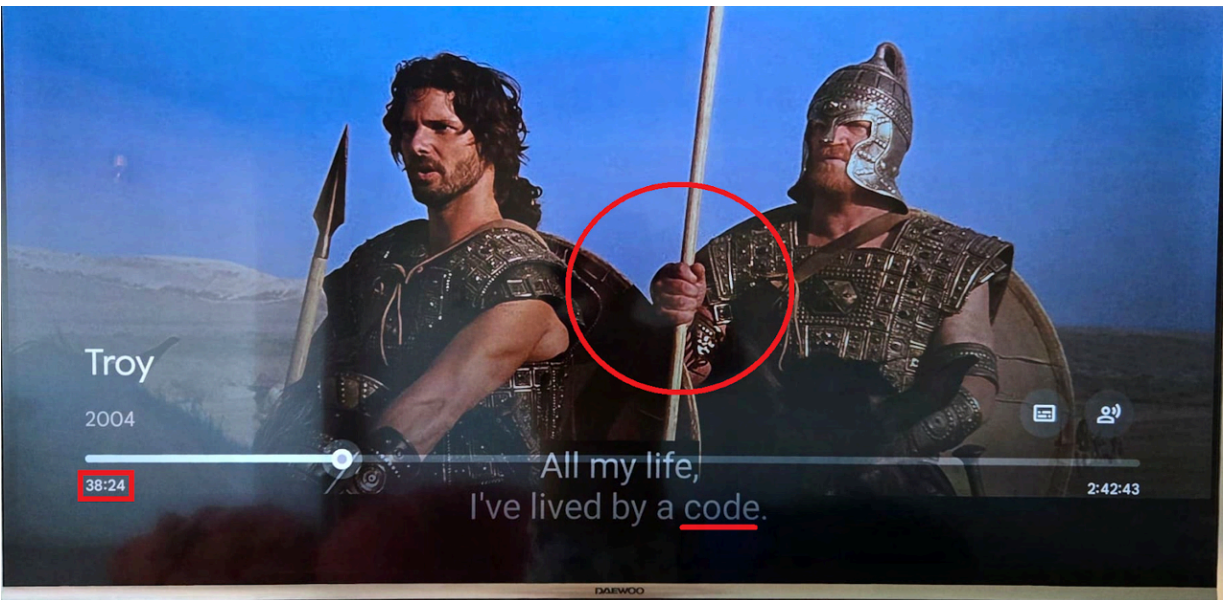

A feminine reference occurs in this passage and its numerology, the color red in the glasses in The Last Supper, Mona Vana, and the word disguised in this 222 scene.

In the movie Dead Reckoning a couple is present in a scene with the same numerology as in the movie No Time To Die, where the word “couple” is in its subtitles.

The word handcuffs in Spanish is esposas, a homonym in the Spanish language which can also be translated in English to spouses.

Every detail needs to be taken into account, in this scene the person is looking below.

Mars to reach opposition October 13

When Mars reaches opposition, Earth is between Mars and The Sun. Mars and the Sun shine on opposite sides of our sky, this occurred on October or 10 13.

28:34

The word Paris or a combination of the word in spanish for pair is "par" and the word "is" in english is also hidden in this scene.

Once again another coincidence in the movie Training Day. We can see in the scene 2438 the word Pair.

<https://archive.org/details/20251020-035029-2>

Are these just coincidences? Putting aside the fact that all these can't be random events, what is the purpose behind them? What message is being conveyed here?

Second Coming

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For other uses, see Second Coming \(disambiguation\).

The Second Coming (sometimes called the Second Advent or the Parousia) is the Christian and Islamic belief that Jesus Christ will return to Earth after his ascension to Heaven (which is said to have occurred about two thousand years ago). The idea is based on messianic prophecies and is part of most Christian eschatologies.

In Islamic eschatology, Jesus (ʿĪsā ibn Maryam) is also believed to return in the end times. According to Islamic belief, he will descend from Heaven to defeat the false messiah (al-Masih ad-Dajjal), restore justice, and reaffirm monotheism. His return is regarded as one of the major signs of the Day of Judgment, and he is viewed as a revered prophet, not divine, in Islamic theology.^[1]

Other faiths have various interpretations of it.

Luke 22:38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

A duality is present with the numeric coincidence or sequence and with the word Russia. This occurs with both father and son in two different movies. The underlined words are implying a very direct message.

2438

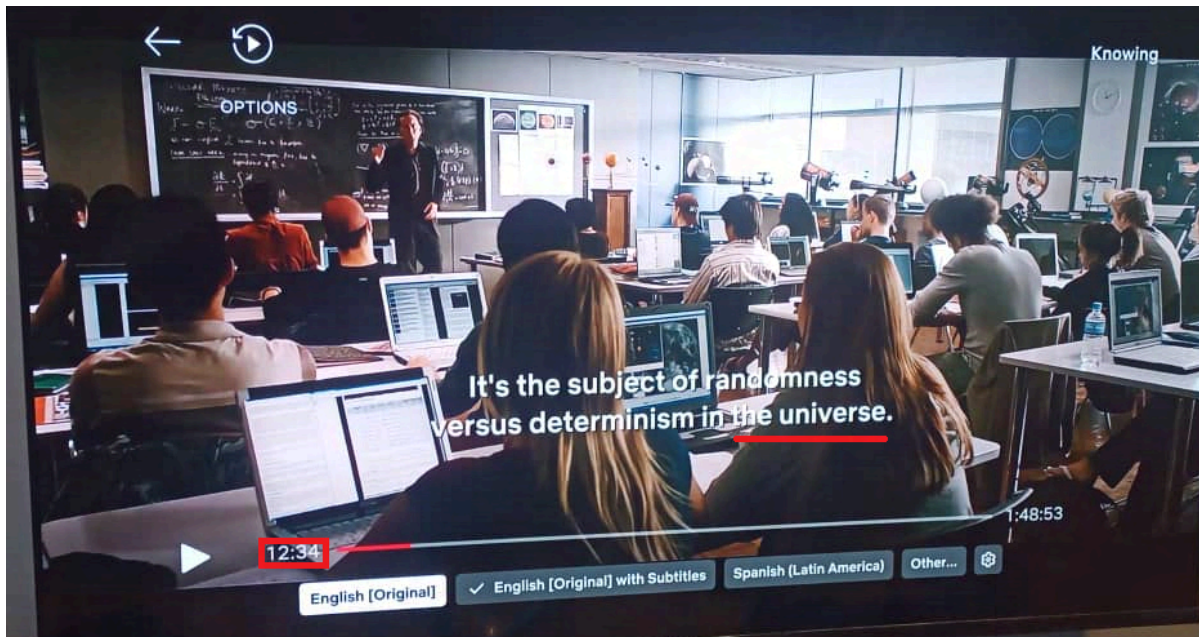

A sequence of scenes involving the numbers 2438, beginning with the movie Tenet, Training Day, The Arrival, ending with the movie Dead Reckoning, involves the word Russia or Parusia (a word that has mystical meaning linked to the second coming), this series of coincidences culminates with the angelic number 3333.

Universe

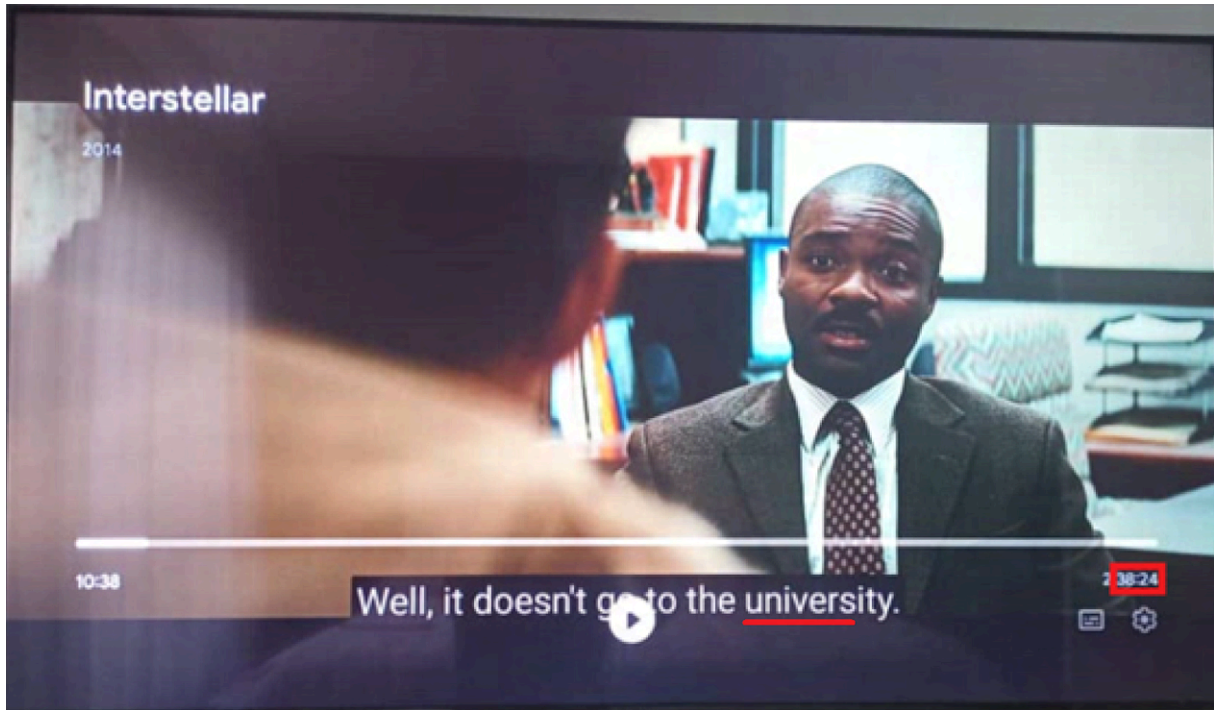

The word Universe is present at this scene which also happens at 3824.

The word universe also is present at the scene 1234 in the movie Knowing. Both these coincidences are telling us where the message comes from.

Also present In the movie interstellar the word universe occurs in 3824.

Next to Charlemagne's statue with the missing thumb, a sphere is present, a symbol for the Universe. This is a sign for yet another coincidence.

Genesis 5:18 When Jared had lived 162 years, he became the father of Enoch.

A thumb in this scene connects Charlemagne's statue, and da Vinci's Last Supper together. A biblical numerology 5:18 is also coinciding with both at another 3824 moment. Please click the link below and watch the video, in order to understand this and further chapters you will need to understand who the archangel Metatron is in the kabbalist tradition and his relationship to Enoch (you can set the language to english, spanish or portuguese in settings).

Metatron (Mishnaic Hebrew: מֵטַטְרוֹן Meṭātrōn),^[1]^[a]^[b]^[5]^[6] or Matatron (מַטַּטְרוֹן Maṭṭātrōn),^[7]^[8] is an angel in Judaism, Gnosticism, and Islam. Metatron is mentioned three times in the Talmud,^[9]^[1]^[10] in a few brief passages in the Aggadah, the Targum,^[11] and in mystical Kabbalistic texts within Rabbinic literature. The figure forms one of the traces for the presence of dualist proclivities in Gnosticism and the otherwise monotheistic vision of the Tanakh.^[12] In Rabbinic literature, he is sometimes portrayed as serving as the celestial scribe.^[9]^[11] The name Metatron is not mentioned in the Torah or the Bible, and how the name originated is a matter of debate. In Islamic tradition, he is also known as Mīṭaṭrūn (Arabic: ميططرون), the angel of the veil.^[13]^[14]:192

In Jewish apocrypha, early Kabbalah, and rabbinic literature,^[11] Metatron is the name that Enoch received after his transformation into an angel.

The Edict of Cyrus usually refers to the biblical account of a proclamation by Cyrus the Great, the founding king of the Achaemenid Persian Empire, in 539 BC. It was issued after the Persians conquered the Neo-Babylonian Empire upon the fall of Babylon, and is described in the Tanakh, which claims that it authorized and encouraged the return to Zion and the rebuilding of the Temple in Jerusalem (i.e., the Second Temple).

The Cyrus Cylinder text has also been called the "Edict of Cyrus",^[1] but this text is now considered to support the biblical account only in a very general sense.^[2]

Biblical narrative [edit]

The edict of Cyrus appears in chapter 36 of the Second Book of Chronicles in the Hebrew Bible:

Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accomplished, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying: 'Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia: All the kingdoms of the earth hath the LORD, the God of heaven, given me; and He hath charged me to build Him a house in Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Whosoever there is among you of all His people—the LORD his God be with him—let him go up.'

—2 Chronicles 36:22–23 ↗

Ezra 1:1–4 reads:

Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accomplished, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying: 'Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia: All the kingdoms of the earth hath the LORD, the God of heaven, given me; and He hath charged me to build Him a house in Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Whosoever there is among you of all His people—his God be with him—let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD, the God of Israel, He is the God who is in Jerusalem. And whosoever is left, in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beasts, beside the freewill-offering for the house of God which is in Jerusalem.'

Siro king of Persia was credited with rebuilding the Second Temple. An implied message is hidden in the last page. The Archangel Metratron who in human form was once Enoch, and who is to reveal the Third Temple.

Zechariah 11:13 And the LORD said to me, “Throw it to the potter”—the handsome price at which they valued me! So I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw them to the potter at the house of the LORD.

Jeremias 18:6 “O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter?” saith the LORD. “Behold, as the clay is in the potter’s hand, so are ye in Mine hand, O house of Israel.”

Revelation

For a revelation to take place, something needs to be hidden and protected until the right moment arrives, the greatest secret of all times.

This document is only a very small fragment of a 10,000+ page manuscript, as you can imagine, very limited information can be summarized into a 338 page document. Once our manuscript is published you will be able to see thousands of incredible coincidences that prove unequivocally his existence, his plan, and follow in detail all the events that lead up to this revelation.

A True Religion is the ultimate objective and main focus of the mission. To usher a new era of comprehension, peace and human conscience by understanding how our creator has steered us from the shadows to where we are today.

Prophecy is a synchronicity based concept on a much larger scale, understanding this will help you comprehend how God influences our reality, time, and freewill.

Crozz

Aside from gaining control of the world's Intelligence community and its military infrastructure, another part of my mission is to rebalance the world economic order. In order to do this Crozz Coin was created. Crozz Coin is the financial part of the Great Plan to bring about a change for the ages, a Great Plan that has been in the works since the beginning of time to bring peace and prosperity for the whole world. Crozz's theological mission, True Religion, explains in depth its true purpose and mission.

Job 1:3 ...He was the greatest man among all the people of the East.

Daniel 10:10 In the third year of SIRO king of Persia, a revelation was given to Daniel (who was called Belteshazzar). Its message was true and it concerned a great war. The understanding of the message came to him in a vision.

Operation Southern Spear

Daniel 10:13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

John 10:13 who were born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

▣ Profecía de Cindy Jacobs para Venezuela

Our approach to world stability will include funding aid needed to bring about the improvement of life quality of populations specially those living in developing countries and crisis affected regions. Another one of Crozz's main objectives is funding research and development in healthcare, education and training in all vocational and professional fields. Things that will advance the well being of all human kind and make this world a much better place to live in.

Crozz Coin will serve as the financial foundation for the future of humanity which includes the consolidation of a new era where issues that affect the world population such as famine, global warming, environmental destruction, will take priority.

In an era of irresponsible pursuit of growth and gains, Crozz will also serve as a tool to mitigate the damage caused by inclement greed and irresponsible financial practices. Crozz Coin is designed to be a safeguard to strengthen the world financial system in the event of a meltdown or extreme financial uncertainty.

Tokenomics

What are we looking for? For you to do your part, contribute to his plan, a contribution that could be considered a tithe that you can eventually cash out and get rewarded for. How much? Any amount will do.

Comprehending how He "speaks" to us through coincidence is more important than any amount of money, that is our real goal.

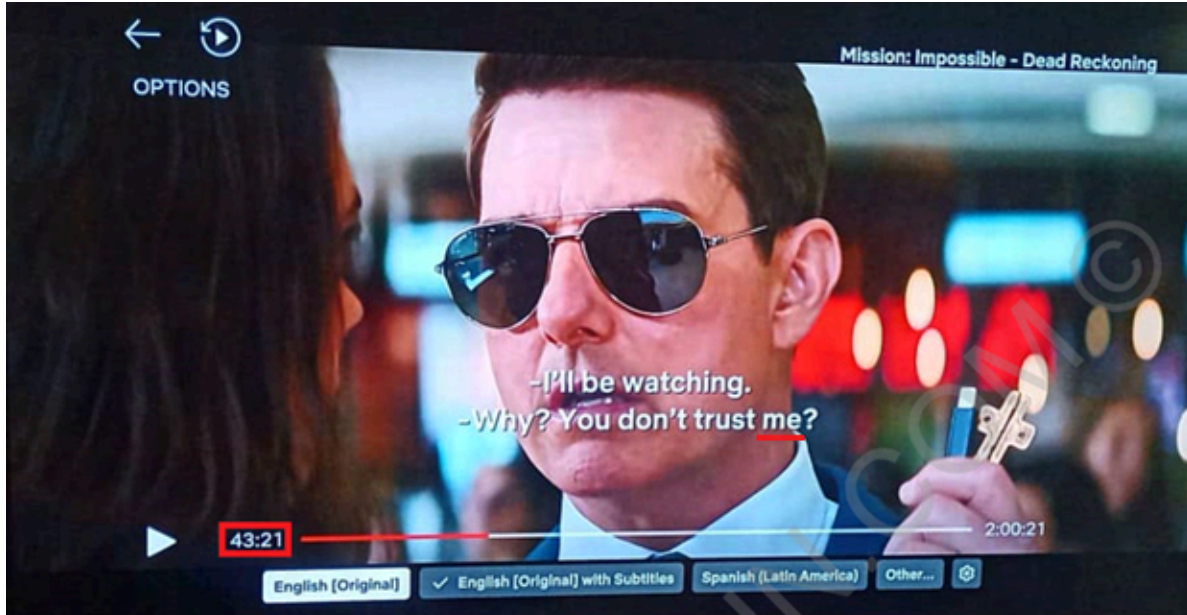

As more join us, our pooled liquidity will increase rewarding those who entered early. Crozz Coin will eventually convert into a stable coin. This will happen once the goal is reached, and a liquidity pool is no longer needed. Eventually the current blockchain we use will be replaced by our own blockchain and our own exchange and wallets will be created, this move will eventually render commission fees to almost none in our ecosystem.

Conclusion

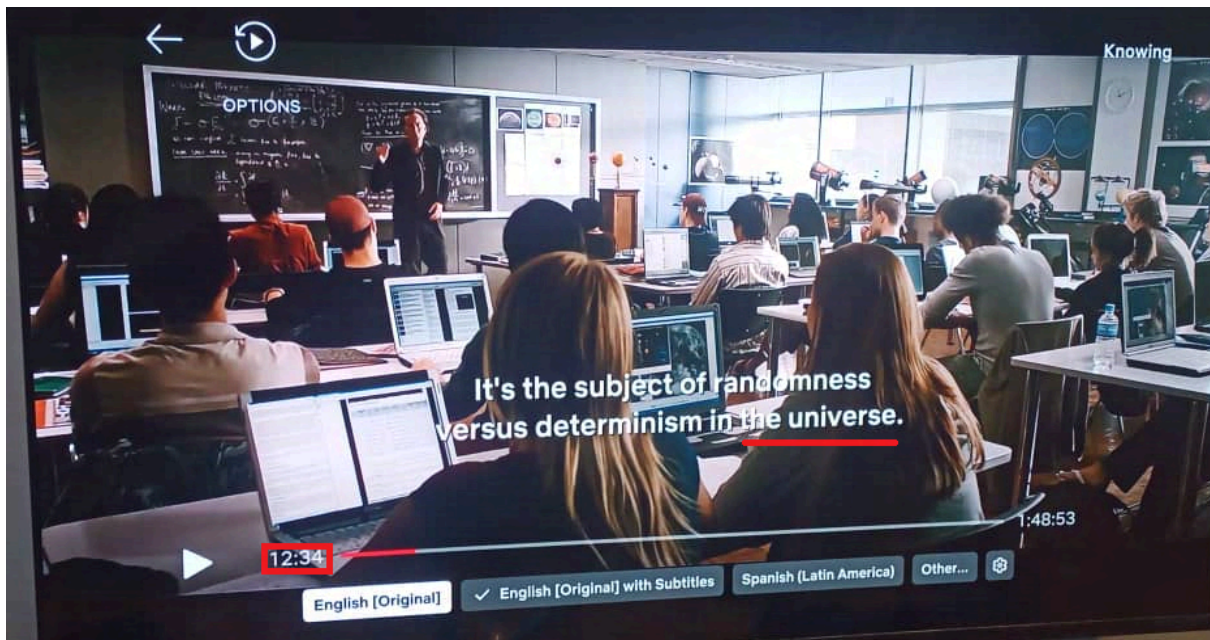

If you understand the spiritual, religious and mystic nature of this document, you should also understand what my mission is. This concludes this introduction to the True Religion Manuscript when released you will be able to read in detail and understand what happened those five years.
